Five Injured When 2 Cars Ram Head-On 2 Youths 'Critical' Following Accident In Hookstown Area

A Youngstown sports car driver and one of his passengers were in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received when their car and another rammed head-on at Shane's Bend on Route 30 west of Hookstown early Sunday morning. Three others were hurt in the 1.15 a. m. collision.

George D. Kennedy, 19, the driver, received skull injuries and an injury to the left foot, and Edward Johnson, 18, the passenger, suffered a laceration of the scalp, skull injury and multiple body injuries.

Pennsylvania state police at Carnegie said Kennedy's sports auto went off center on the rain-swept curve and collided head-on with a station wagon driven by Kenneth Croyle, 33, of Cantner, Pa.

Croyle, who received a cut on the eyelid and injury to the left ankle, and a passenger, Marian Croyle, 57, also of Cantner, who suffered facial injuries, were in "fair" condition today.

Also in "fair" condition was Robert Walker, 19, of Follansbee. He received rib injuries and abrasions of the knees.

Officers, who are still investigating the mishap, said Kennedy was headed east and failed to make the curve, which is 4.2 miles west of Hookstown and near the Pennsylvania - West Virginia line.

The small car collided head-on with the west-bound station wagon of Croyle, demolishing both vehicles.

Erhard May Ask Delay In 2-Year Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources say Chancellor Ludwig Erhard plans to ask President Johnson today to postpone Bonn's agreement to buy $1.35-billion worth of U.S. military equipment in the two years ending next June 30.

Erhard, who arrived here Saturday for two days of talks with Johnson, explained his government's predicament Sunday to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary George W. Ball, informants said.

The chancellor reportedly told the U.S. officials that West Germany is unable to pay more than 50 per cent of the $675 million obligation each year to help defray the cost of keeping 200,000 troops of the U.S. 7th Army in Germany.

Rusk, who returned Sunday from a week of talks with foreign ministers at the United Nations, was to join the President and other senior U.S. officials in the talks today and Tuesday with Erhard and members of his government.

Hit Antiaircraft Sites

U.S. Planes Rip North Viet Anew

SAIGON, South Viet. Nam (AP) — U.S. bomber pilots reported silencing 10 antiaircraft gun positions in North Viet Nam Sunday along a main rail line to Communist China.

During 127 bombing raids in the North, U.S. fliers also attacked four surface-to-air missile sites, including one only nine miles northeast of Hanoi. Navy attack bombers reported destroying a North Vietnamese torpedo boat 50 miles northeast of Haiphong in the Tonkin Gulf.

Ground fighting in South Viet Nam dwindled to small and scattered actions after a week-end in which U.S. South Vietnamese and Korean forces reported more than 350 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed and 176 captured.

During the raids over the North, a U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down and the pilot is missing. It was the 386th plane reported lost in the war over North Viet Nam.

The antiaircraft gun positions knocked out by Air Force Thunderchiefs were part of a chain protecting the northeast rail artery 50 to 55 miles northeast of the Red capital, a U.S. spokesman said.

Navy planes from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea attacked three SAM sites in the Thanh Hoa area, and the spokesman said they heavily damaged all three. The fourth missile site, nine miles from Hanoi, was pounded by Air Force bombers.

U.S. Marines operating near the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam reported a possible kill of 60 North Vietnamese army regulars in a fierce fight Saturday. The Leathernecks were hard hit themselves, reporting moderate casualties.

In a pre-dawn attack over the demilitarized zone Sunday, Air Force B52 bombers hammered North Vietnamese infiltration routes and supply and storage areas.

U.S. sources reported three helicopters lost in South Viet Nam Sunday, one by enemy groundfire, one by U.S. artillery fire and the other in a crash. Two crewmen were killed and two injured when one helicopter crashed in a mine field at Bien Hoa. Two persons aboard a helicopter knocked down by ground-

Probe Begins Into 2 Entries At Wellsville

Tools, Cash Stolen In Building Supply Store Burglaries

Burglars hit two building supply firms in Wellsville over the weekend, hauling away an undetermined amount of merchandise.

An investigation was launched this morning with an officer from the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification at London assisting Wellsville police.

Police Chief John Hepner said the Shamrock Hardware & Lumber Co. at 510 10th St. and Sandy's Home Improvement at 1729 Commerce St. were burglarized sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The night man on duty discovered the entry at the Shamrock Hardware while checking the building early Sunday morning. The other burglary was discovered by the owner.

In both instances, an undetermined amount of power tools and electrical appliances was stolen. Inventory is being taken at both places to determine the exact loss.

The burglars also hauled away the cash register at Sandy's, Hepner said.

Both entries were made through rear doors. A search will be made this morning for finger prints and other evidence.

The Shamrock Hardware is managed by John E. Brown while Merle L. Catiell owns Sandy's, located in the old Miller Lumber Co. building.

Hepner said there doesn't appear to be any connection between the burglaries and those of two service stations, a used car lot office and a car wash operation over a week ago.

Wire Proves Successful In Cancer Drive

CHICAGO (AP) — Researchers at the University of Chicago say that radioactive chromium wire has been used successfully in the experimental treatment of cancer.

"Six years ago a patient with a life expectancy of six months was treated with radioactive chromium wire," Dr. Melvin Griem, an associate professor of radiology said Sunday. "He is leading a normal life today."

Griem led the experiments at the Argonne Cancer Research Hospital of the University of Chicago.

Since the initial use of the wire, 10 additional patients have undergone such treatment. These cases, Griem said, are being evaluated.

As explained by Griem, the radioactive chromium wire was cut into short lengths and inserted into cancerous tissue of patients to retard or destroy the cancerous growth by radiation.

The wire used by the researchers was thirty-one thousandths of an inch thick.

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Ku Klux Klansman Eugene Thomas, already under a 10-year federal prison sentence, faces trial in state court today for the killing of Viola Gregg Luzzo, a civil rights worker.

But the call of the docket in Hayneville's century-old courthouse found the state seeking to dismiss an assault charge against a special deputy sheriff accused of wounding another civil rights worker in rural Lowndes County.

Attorney General Richmond Flowers, in personal command of both prosecutions, notified Circuit Judge Werth Thagard that he would ask to nolle prossé—dismiss without prosecution—the indictment against Thomas L. Coleman of Hayneville.

Coleman, 56, a highway engineer and member of a prominent Lowndes County family, is charged with assault and battery in the almost-fatal shotgun attack on a White Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Richard Morrisroe of Chicago.

Flowers has said repeatedly he feels Coleman should have been indicted on a more serious charge than assault and battery, which carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $500 fine. Dismissal of the lesser indictment would leave the way open for a later grand jury to charge Coleman with a more serious offense.

Morrisroe, 26, was critically wounded and a companion, seminary student Jonathan Daniels of Keene, N. H., was slain by Coleman Aug. 29, 1965, while the two clergymen were in Lowndes County helping Negroes in a voter registration drive.

Coleman admitted shooting both men but claimed self-defense.

It was questionable whether the special deputy would go to trial this week regardless of Thagard's ruling because the murder charge against Thomas, 43, in the slaying of Mrs. Luzzo had priority on the docket.

Mrs. Luzzo, the wife of Teamsters Union official Anthony Luzzo, was slain by gunshots from a passing car March 25, 1965, after the Selma to Montgomery civil rights march. She had joined others in the march and was driving Negroes back to Selma.

Non-Communists Bloc Warned On Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) — George D. Woods, World Bank president, said today that non-Communist nations face a crucial financial gap in efforts to help underdeveloped countries.

He told a joint meeting of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank that the bank's two affiliates are running low on funds. He said the bank itself is feeling the pinch of tight money and high interest rates in the industrial countries.

UFO Sightings

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (P) — Mrs. John F. Dolen of Kingsport has added a touch of realism to flying saucer sighting. The ones she saw are even the right size, Mrs. Dolen said she and several others saw an object about the size of a breadplate, yellow in color and surrounded by a halo, whizzing by on several occasions.

TOKYO (AP) — Hundreds of casualty toll since 5,041 died police and soldiers were pressed near Nagoya on Sept. 26, 1959, into disaster duty today to clean up the debris, restore communications and dig out the dead from the worst typhoon to hit Japan in seven years.

A third big typhoon, June, was churning in the Pacific. Weathermen said it might approach Japan Thursday if it and Mt. Fuji area, early Sunday, while Typhoon Helen was still beating southern Japan with less ferocity.

National Police headquarters said the latest count was 197 dead, 123 missing and nearly 1,000 injured. Damage to U.S. military installations was estimated at more than $6 million.

Government officials estimated Japanese damage at more than $300 million.

It was the highest typhoon gusts — at the top of Mt. Fuji.

New Move Made For Peace Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The deputy prime minister of Malaysia asked all other U.N. members today to help get a peace conference of "the immediate parties" to the war in Viet Nam.

Speaking in the assembly's general debate, Abdul Razak also urged U Thant of Burma to continue as U.N. secretary-general, hailed the recent end of Indonesia's war against Malaysia, and welcomed Indonesia's impending return to the United Nations.

Deploping Communist China's demands for a reorganized United Nations, Razak said Formosa "should be allowed to remain a member of the United Nations while mainland China could be admitted to this organization if she so agrees."

South Viet Nam endorsed the peace move, North Viet Nam and Communist China rejected threat to the peace, progress, it

To Check Red Infiltration

4-Nation Blocking Force Under Study In Viet Nam

DONG HA, South Viet Nam (AP) — American officers believe a four-nation blocking force is the best way to stop Communist troop infiltration across the demilitarized zone into South Viet Nam.

U.S. sources say the idea is being considered on the highest American levels but the three other governments must also approve.

The force would include Korean and Australian troops as well as South Vietnamese units and U.S. Marines already deployed in the northern part of South Viet Nam.

Communist infiltration across the demilitarized zone between the two Viet Nams has become a major problem for U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

Military sources indicate an effective force would need to total at least three regiments and possibly four — between 10,000 and 16,000 men.

The South Vietnamese already have one regiment in the area and the American Marines lack only one battalion of having two regiments.

Two children of a Hanoverton area couple killed in a head-on crash near Alliance Sunday remained in "fair" condition today at Alliance City Hospital, while another driver in the collision was in "guarded" condition at a Canton hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Schell were pronounced dead at 2:50 p. m. yesterday at the Alliance Hospital following the grinding crash on Route 62, about three miles west of Alliance. Both suffered fractured skulls.

Schell, 40, and his wife, Virginia, along with their youngsters, Karen Schell, 15, and David Schell, 12, were in a 1965 auto headed east when the mishap took place.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Massillon said a 1965 auto operated by Edward Harrington, 53, of Alliance was headed west, and he lost control on the west roadway after passing two other westbound autos.

His car skidded left of center and struck the Schell auto head-on.

Officers said Manuel Fernandez, 26, of Canton was headed east behind the Schell auto, and he drove off the highway and into a ditch to avoid the impending collision.

Karen Schell suffered fractures of the right leg and arm and possible internal injuries. Her brother received fractured legs and other injuries.

Harrington was transferred to the Aultman Hospital at Canton after treatment for head injuries, a fractured leg and multiple abrasions.

Services for Mr. and Mrs. Schell will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at Trinity Friends Church west of Lisbon, with the Rev. Gilbert Thomas officiating.

The Eells-Leggett Funeral Home of Lisbon is in charge of arrangements. There will be no calling hours. A second service will be held at the Fry Funeral home in Fairmont, W. Va. Burial will be in the Masonic Cemetery at Shinnston, W. Va.

Mrs. Schell was born Dec. 5, 1925, in Fairmont, a son of George and Lulu Powell Schell, and married Flossie Virginia Jackson Nov. 30, 1946. They lived in New Garden the last six years and were members of Trinity Friends Church.

He was a truck driver for Daniels Motor Freight at Youngstown. He served two years in the Navy during World War II.

Mrs. Schell, also a native of Fairmont, was born Jan. 26, 1924, a daughter of James C. and Flossie Lipscomb Jackson.

They leave two daughters, Marjorie in Malone College at Canton, and Karen, a junior at United High School, and a son, David, a seventh-grader at United.

Mr. Schell also leaves his mother, Mrs. Lulu Schell of Worthington, W. Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Lee of Monongah, W. Va., and Mrs. Delphie Vernon of Worthington; and three brothers, Lloyd Schell of Little Rock, Ark.; James Schell of Four States, W. Va., and Gerald Schell of Wyatt, W. Va.

Mrs. Schell also leaves her parents in Fairmont, two sisters, Mrs. Linda MacGill of Fairmont and Mrs. Eloise Lovegrove of Baltimore, Md., and four brothers, Bernard Jackson of Fairmont, and Darrel Jackson, Eugene Jackson and Jack Jackson, all of Lisbon.

Burglars Steal Cash And Checks

LISBON — Thieves broke into the White Spot Restaurant on Route 30, east of Minerva, some time Saturday night and stole $322.68 in cash and $1,100 in checks made out to the restaurant.

The loss was reported to the Columbiana County sheriff's office by Manager Robert Yeager about 10 a. m. Sunday after he discovered the burglary.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford and Deputy John Hinchliffe investigated. They said entry was gained by cutting a hole in the glass of a rear door. The money and checks were in a locked metal box which the burglars broke open.

Crashes Hurt 4 In District

Three drivers and a passenger were injured in two of a series of weekend mishaps investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A car operated by Ivan Junior Lindsey, 42, of Akron struck the rear of another on Route 170 at the intersection with Route 30, knocking it into the rear of a third Sunday about 7 p. m.

Lindsey's 1966 hardtop rammed the rear of a 1965 sedan operated by Robert Nicholas Winn, 35, of Streetsboro, who had halted for traffic and a stop sign ahead.

Winn's car was shoved into the rear of a 1965 sedan driven by Merry Lou Barcus, 20, of 315 Center St., who also had halted for two cars and the stop sign ahead.

She was treated at City Hospital for a possible back injury. Betty Winn, passenger in the Streetsboro man's car, was treated at the hospital for bruises of the left leg.

Lindsey was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Robert L. Edmond, 43, of Kensington R. D. 1 was treated Saturday for back injuries received when his 1966 coach overturned along the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd. after he lost control on a series of curves.

Officers said he was headed west and his car went off the left side of the roadway, struck an embankment and rolled over. There was severe damage to the auto.

Nancy Jane Guza, 23, of Beaver Falls received bruises when her car overturned along Route 154 a mile east of Negley Sunday evening.

Officers said she was driving east when her 1961 convertible went off the south side of the highway, into a ditch and up an embankment, overturning.

Helen P. Batcho, 46, of McDonald escaped injury when her car veered off Route 7 about a mile south of Route 14 last night and struck an embankment.

The patrol said Gerald Anderson, 32, of Waynesburg, Pa., attempted to pass her car just as she pulled out to pass another auto.

When she heard his horn, she attempted to return to her lane, but lost control and her sedan went off the right side of the highway, causing slight damage to the rear of the auto.

Ralph Lesley Hall, 74, of Columbiana was cited for driving left of center after his car collided with a pickup truck on Township Rd. 846 two miles west of Route 164 Saturday.

Hall, according to the patrol, rounded a curve left of the center line and collided with an oncoming truck driven by William Thomas Williams, 29, of Salineville R. D. 2.

James Edward Sadler, 26, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was unhurt after his 1964 convertible went off Route 164 just north of Lisbon early Saturday afternoon. Sadler, headed south, swerved off the road to avoid traffic halted for road work, and his car scraped a guard rail.

14 Treated By City Hospital After Varied Area Mishaps

A youth hurt in a fall from a car door, James Byers, son of a horse and a girl injured in a fall against a sewing machine were treated Sunday at City Hospital, where 14 area residents were treated after separate mishaps over the weekend.

Brenda Jarvis, daughter of Herman Jarvis of Hammondsville R. D. 1, finger injuries when her hand caught in a car door; Donald Paul McVay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCoy of 1012 Waterloo St., injuries of the left arm in a fall from a horse and was treated last night; right ankle while playing football.

Monica Solterbeck, daughter of Eric Solterbeck of 156 Ravine St., suffered a cut on the ear in a fall against a sewing machine.

Lloyd Dorsey of Midway Trailer Court, Newell, received an injury to the thumb in a fall and Sherry Kinsey, daughter of Herman Kinsey of Rogers R. D. 1, suffered a cut of the lip at home.

Treated Saturday were: Nancy Ellen Rose, daughter of Wayne Rose of 1513 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, a puncture wound of the foot when she stepped on a nail; Audrey Wolfe, daughter of Jack Wolfe of Bloomfield, a cut on the cheek in a fall against a coffee table.

John Bryarley of 1003 Lincoln Ave., a leg injury when he became caught between a garage door and a car.

250 Join In Services At Bethesda Church

MILLPORT — Approximately 250 attended the 31st annual homecoming Sunday at Bethesda Presbyterian Church.

Seminar Held During Rally

A seminar for Junior High and Senior High youths and leaders was held by the Wheeling Presbyterian Saturday morning and afternoon at Warwood United Presbyterian Church, Wheeling. Representatives from 10 churches attended.

Participating from this area were Mrs. J. M. Brand, Janice Huff, Edith Werkheiser, Jean Waggle and Robert Milner of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church, Chester; the Rev. and Mrs. C. Donald Vogel, Patty Campbell, Joyce Dudgeon, Debra Urie and Deanna Dean of the First United Presbyterian Church of Chester; Fred Miller of the Fairview Church of Pughtown, and Mrs. Robert Webster from the New Cumberland church.

The sessions dealt with problems and needs of teenagers and possible ways in which the church can minister with youth.

Mrs. Vogel, chairman of the subcommittee on youth education of the Wheeling Presbytery, was chairman of the event. Jean Waggle of Chester is the youth representative of the committee for the Presbytery.

Rev. Vogel was leader of the Junior High youth and adult group for the seminar. A similar event is being planned for the fall of 1967.

Dance Arranged For Radio Group

Plans for a Halloween dance were announced during a meeting of Chapter 6 of the United Citizens Band Radio Association Sunday night at the Frischkorn Skating Rink.

Mrs. Jeannie Calhoun said the dance will be held Oct. 28. Details will be announced later.

Fifty-five members and their families attended. A report was heard on a picnic held Aug. 23 at Bibbee's Lake.

Vic Pucci, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Ray Manning, president.

New members were welcomed. A social hour followed. Guests included Mrs. Edna Kearns of Wellsville, Ben Spencer and family of New Cumberland and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smalridge of Beaver.

The next meeting will be Oct. 30.

Boy Finds Out 'Slots' Will Take Finger Too

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Richard Meletio, 9, poked a finger into a vending machine slot designed only for quarters.

"I was just fooling around," he said.

He was at a bowling center near his home.

It was an hour and 27 minutes later before firemen backsaw the metal slot and used pliers to free Richard's finger.

Judges for the contest Oct. 8 are Mrs. Doris Kokoski of Freedom, dancing instructor; Mrs. Gertrude Trobe of Beaver Falls, radio station figure, and Paul London of the Times.

Paul Underiner of Beaver, an engineer for Michael Baker Jr. Inc., will be master of ceremonies for the finals at the Beaver Senior High School.

Personal interviews by judges will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 at the Times building.

Union 'No' Seen To GE's Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — A sampling of voting by General Electric Co. employees across the country showed today a trend toward rejection of the firm's proposed new contract to replace one expiring at midnight Oct. 2.

Balloting began Sunday and will continue through the week.

At some plants, only the rejection was announced by union leaders, without giving vote totals.

At plants where vote totals were supplied, the balloting generally was heavily in favor of rejecting GE's latest offer for a 38-month pact.

In Lynn, Mass., about 2,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers — largest of some 100 unions bargaining with GE — rejected the proposed pact.

Business agent Hugh McManus said: "An overwhelming majority of the membership (in Lynn and Everett, Mass., plants) expressed the opinion that the proposals were peanuts and not enough, that the 38-month contract proposal was out of the question."

Carnival To Be Held

A neighborhood carnival for the benefit of muscular dystrophy victims will be held Tuesday at the home of Susan Jenette Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Williams of 313 W. 9th St. The carnival will get under way at 4 p. m.

Featured will be various games and booths.

Competition Must Be Destroyed

The ultimate obscenity of Red rioting in mainland China was a raid on the house of the widow of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, founder of the Chinese Republic. This 75-year-old woman has been a leading member of the Chinese Communist party.

It is not known whether this legendary figure of the Chinese revolution was personally present when her home was sacked. But either in her presence or her absence, the insult to her was unmistakable. She has been repudiated by her own kind.

In no system of totalitarian man-worship is there room for competitors. The current man-god of the movement must be absolute. The current man-god in Communist China is Mao Tse-tung.

He and his personal followers must destroy all other personalities that might detract from their power. They must have one of Communisms periodic purges to cleanse the movement of all influences other than their own.

This is the way it was in Russia, when the ruthless Stalin destroyed his competitors. This is the way it must be in every absolutist political order.

Communism is only one variety of absolutism. The same pattern can be seen in all varieties. It was visible in Italy under the Fascist Mussolini, in Germany under the Nazi Hitler, in Indonesia under the despot Sukarno, in Japan under the warlord Tojo, even in modern France under the strong man De Gaulle. Their potential competitors must be destroyed.

Revolutionists who trust to the sword must kill one another to keep from being killed. They fear competition from within more than they fear overthrow from without.

Rep. Powell On Probation

U.S. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell boasts that his critics who were trying to cut him down to size as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee never touched him.

He says he has all the power he ever had. He claims a personal triumph—a demonstration of the power of representative democracy, he describes it.

This is puzzling. U.S. Rep. Sam Gibbons of Florida, who led the movement to curtail the high-handed powers Rep. Powell had been exercising, insists the movement was a success.

Either someone is spoofing the public, or there is more in what happened to Rep. Powell than has met the eye so far. Our guess is that Rep. Powell has been put on legislative probation. He has been given a suspended sentence.

The Volga Good Humor Man

While worry over sales has always brought creases to the face of factory officials, the problem is wreathing Russian consumers' faces in smiles.

Their good humor has been produced by a new profit-oriented economic reform policy.

In the past, the factory's responsibility ended when the finished product landed in a warehouse.

Now, the factory is accountable until the product is sold and payment collected.

Taking a leaf from the American salesman's book, the Soviets found smiles helped sales. The edict went down the line, smile and sell.

Most surprised by this policy reversal was the Russian buyer.

Accustomed to a cold indifference, an almost hostile atmosphere, buyers were blinded by the glare from shining teeth.

A Soviet press account has told of a purchasing agent actually given his choice of two types of boiler regulators for a Moscow company. This, and a smile, too.

He was dumbfounded.

There is a chance that the change may be too drastic for the buyers and the campaign may fail.

What Russia really needs now to insure success is a U.S. ad agency.

There would be an immediate sprouting of "Courtesy Is Contagious" pins on the lapels of salesmen.

Overnight, billboards would spring up proclaiming: "A Smile Is Worth a Thousand Words."

Bumper stickers would shout: "Happiness Is Smiling."

There would be a never-ending flow of slogans on place mats, book markers and in newspapers: "Smile and All of Russia Smiles With You, Frown and You're Out of a Job"; "Smiling Is Healthy, Frowning Isn't!"; "You're Not Fully Dressed Until You Put on Your Smile." and "A Smile a Day Keeps the Czar Away."

By James Marlow

this time against North Viet Nam's oil depots. The pressure on him to find peace became intense.

FOR ONE thing, much of the world didn't like the war. A lot of Americans didn't like it. And the war was gorging itself on billions of American dollars which could be used at home.

Last week U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, made a plea for peace before the body and a couple of days later Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, made a proposal.

As a preliminary to negotiations, he said, the United States would stop bombing the North if it just got assurance that North Viet Nam would start cutting down on its war effort.

This looked like another American concession. Instead of wanting proof that North Viet Nam would pull back its troops if the United States stopped bombing, this country was willing to settle for assurances — although it wouldn't take long to find out if North Viet Nam was living up to its assurances.

But Russia quickly brushed this proposal aside. And North Viet Nam rejected it as hypocritical.

City Trails

Hikers who want to get away from it all soon may find pleasant trails to explore—right in the city.

Encouraged by federal grants, 12 urban areas are developing wilderness trails for hikers, cyclists and horseback riders.

Most of the city trails will link existing parkland, the National Geographic Society says.

Within the city limits of Seattle, a cedar-plank trail will cross a cattail marsh teeming with wildlife. Bridges will connect the walkway to an island bird sanctuary and arboretum.

Arlington, Va., adjoining Washington, D.C., is developing an all-weather bicycle trail through several of the county's parks and recreation areas. Comfort stations, picnic sites, play and shelter areas will be available.

In New York City's Inwood Hill Park, at the northernmost tip of crowded Manhattan Island, a mile-long hiking and nature trail is being blazed through a forest of giant beeches and oaks. The circular path through a high part of the park will offer panoramic views of the Hudson River Valley.

A 90-mile bike trail through the heart of Omaha will follow existing boulevards, railroad rights-of-way, and dike embankments.

Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, and San Francisco, among other large cities, also are planning new recreation areas for harassed city dwellers.

'Some Of Us Would Like To Have You'

Rockefeller Outflanks Kennedy

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — Bob Kennedy has the name and the fame but the political game here is going to Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller.

With fantastic personal skill, Rockefeller, scion of the world's wealthiest family, personally has tied to his own career the toughest, hardest, most militant labor leaders in the land. His labor legions stretch far beyond the building and construction unions which have openly declared for his re-election. Soon to work for him in an effort to defeat the Democrats will be men who have struck hospitals, social institutions, the docks, subways, bus systems, hotels and airlines.

So much has he become the nation's most pro-labor governor that wherever there is some union opposition to him, union brother is fighting union brother. Virtually every big union not actually in his corner is split between those who are for him—and those who want to remain neutral.

SO ARE MOST of the state's labor federations, including the powerful statewide federation whose executive body meets shortly to hammer things — or each other — out on the political front.

Rockefeller did not do it with shiny new dimes. Assiduously, but genially, he mixed with the boys — something Bob Kennedy never has been able to do.

Methodically, Rockefeller sought out the power blocs, the activists, the vocalists and wooed them literally on the land, in the air and on the sea. Only the airline that ran between the San Francisco AFL-CIO convention and Las Vegas has shuttled more labor leaders than "Rocky's" private plane.

Rockefeller has given New York labor far more than any other governor has, including Franklin D. Roosevelt Sr. No other governor has summoned labor leaders — regardless of political creed — to the executive mansion or to resplendent private homes before each legislative session — so he could listen, propose, heed and revise his legislative program. Rockefeller has done just that.

And more. He has pushed through laws and sent messages of necessity to the legislature which have been the catalysts for the upsurging of labor across the U.S. this past year.

WHEN, FOR EXAMPLE, some 35,000 transit workers were about to be punished by the court for violating the state's no-strike law by paralyzing the subways and buses for 12 ambulatory days, Rockefeller indeed rushed to their rescue.

They were not punished, for they were legislatively absolved at his insistence.

They loved him for it and their organization, the Transport Workers Union Local 100, still pained by the death of their leader, "Mike" Quill, will not fight the governor this campaign.

Victor Riesel

It was, in fact, at the requiem for the roguish Mike that the attraction for "Rocky" was first sounded through the hall for all to remember.

There are other militants who have reason to prove their political devotion to the Republican governor. It was "Nelson" who pushed through a law in 1963 permitting hospital workers to unionize in New York City, and then in 1965 extended this jurisdiction to the rest of the state. These were followed by turbulent stoppages.

These, too, were the catalysts, in that strange chemistry of labor contagions, for the doctors' and nurses' resignation strikes which have made this year historic.

It was Rockefeller who pushed through a state law which gave nonprofit institution employees — such as workers at the "Y" — the right to unionize.

IT WAS ROCKEFELLER who sat with the intense and muscled men who lead the world's most famous dockers — New York City's longshoremen — and introduced their favorite bill through a "message of necessity."

Rockefeller even has had his specialists in Atlantic City wooing the Steelworkers. And many of them will be with him.

And so the "boys" — be they from the hospital union, the hotel and motel workers, the plumbers or carpenters — like "Nelson" They say he will romp in ahead of his Democratic opponent by hundreds of thousands of votes. They think this will make him a prime candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

But then they really don't know much about the Republican party, they've been Democrats so long.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Charles Gerace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gerace of W. 4th St. resumed his studies as a junior at the Medical School of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

Nelva Lewis and Theda McClung, seniors, and Jane Hobbs, a junior, were appointed Chester High School cheerleaders.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A new group, the "Cackle Club" was organized at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Jackson in Westfield. Miss Helen Johnson was named president.

Harry Kiggins was elected president of the Wellsville Boosters Club.

Miss Christina Sager, Chester soprano, sang in the operetta "Madame Butterfly" presented at the Beaver auditorium under the sponsorship of the Beaver Valley Civic Opera Society.

TEN YEARS AGO — The farm of Edwin Copeland near Hanoverton was among 21 northern Ohio farms selected to participate in the annual contest of the Cleveland Farmers Club.

The Veep

By David Lawrence

Humphrey Reassured By LBJ

President Johnson has served notice on Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and anybody else who may want to become the Democratic vice-presidential nominee in 1968 that Hubert Humphrey has his full support.

What is most significant is why Mr. Johnson felt it necessary to make such a comment a year and 10 months before the next nominating convention. It is worth noting that the information was disclosed somewhat incidentally and Vice President Humphrey, himself, made it public in a discreet way, pointing out that Mr. Johnson is free to change his mind between now and convention time.

The way the vice president dealt with his prospective renomination is rather unusual. He expressed his viewpoint in a television interview last Saturday at St. Louis. He recalled that on Aug. 31 at a White House dinner attended by 300 top labor leaders, President Johnson put his arm around him and quipped, "We're married to each other." Mr. Johnson added, "As long as I'm president or running for president, I want him (Humphrey) by my side."

But at a news conference two weeks after this episode, President Johnson chose not to answer a direct question as to whether he favored Vice President Humphrey for renomination. This produced speculation and may have prompted a decision to reiterate the president's position.

In the television interview, Mr. Humphrey was asked whether "by my side" meant the President was leaving the door open to appointment of Mr. Humphrey to a Cabinet post. Mr. Humphrey replied, "That's not the way I understood it."

"If he wants somebody else at his side after 1968 to fulfill the political realities of the situation then, I would understand. I'm going to cause him as little trouble as a man can."

This is in accord with the techniques of modern politics. Certainly the President must appreciate the flexibility which Mr. Humphrey has given him. The big question, however, is: Why was it deemed important to say anything publicly about the renomination of a vice president so far in advance of a national party convention.

The answer is that Bobby Kennedy has been making a vigorous campaign for political attention not only inside his own party but with the American people. It is rightly assumed that he wants to be president of the United States.

It is natural for the political world to assume he would like to get there as soon as possible. He could have 1968 in mind for the vice-presidential nomination and then 1972 for the presidential nomination.

At that time, Mr. Johnson will not, under the Constitution, be eligible for another term.

The New York senator knows he couldn't displace Mr. Johnson to head the ticket in 1968, but he would of course, be happy to be selected as the vice-presidential nominee. In the event that Mr. Humphrey should become president between now and 1972, Mr. Kennedy's chances of becoming president in the subsequent eight years would be dim.

There has been talk lately that Mr. Johnson might be in political difficulty in 1968 and need the help of Bobby Kennedy. As popularity polls show President Johnson's strength sagging, some boosters of the New York senator think Mr. Johnson would gain support by putting the name "Kennedy" on the next ticket.

As for party leaders, a survey of the 50 Democratic state chairmen in U.S. News & World Report shows a 49-to-1 vote declaring there is no likelihood of Bobby's getting the presidential nomination in 1968 and a 45-to-5 vote predicting that Mr. Humphrey will be the vice-presidential nominee if Mr. Johnson wants him.

The Spas Change

The centuries-old custom of "taking the waters" still flourishes from New England to New Zealand.

The mineral waters haven't lost their sparkle, but life at the traditional spas has changed, the National Geographic Society says.

Gone are the days when fire-and-brimstone preachers came seeking a cure for "clergyman's throat," when marriageable belles flirted with eligible beaux and royalty recuperated from the rigors of high life.

These days, harried businessmen go to spas to relax. Aging matrons hope to stem the ravages of time. In some European countries with socialized medicine, the average citizen can arrange a government-paid stay at former aristocratic playgrounds.

Many spas in the United States have become general health resorts. The emphasis is on reducing overweight guests struggle through organized exercise and low-calorie meals; they retreat to the steam room as the outside world begins the cocktail hour. At one spartan resort, a famished guest offered an attendant a $10 bribe to sneak in a candy bar. The attendant turned him in.

Some Europeans are as obsessed with the liver as Americans are with the paunch. A bad liver is manfully borne as the natural consequence of good food and good wine, but a Frenchman copes by taking to spas and dutifully sipping mouth-puckering mineral water.

Area Cadet Wins Air Force Honors

Cadet Charles J. Yoos II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Yoos of Lisbon R.D. 5, has been named to the superintendent's merit list at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado.

The insignia which he will wear on his sleeve in recognition of his academic and military achievement will be a silver star enclosed in a silver wreath.

A graduate of David Anderson High School at Lisbon, the cadet was a member of the National Honor Society and was named valedictorian of his class.

Husband Drunk, Wife Drives And Both Wind Up In Court

An East Liverpool woman solved a dilemma early Sunday when she took the car keys away from her husband because she felt he was too drunk to take the wheel and then started to drive home herself, although she never had an operator's license.

But both the woman and her husband wound up in police custody today, the woman charged with driving without a driver's license and the husband accused of intoxication and permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Patrolman David K. Mumaw arrested Mrs. Mary E. Mercer of 130 Ravine St. at 1:17 a. m. Sunday on the Freeway on the license charge and cited her husband, Raymond Mercer, 50, on the other two counts.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff aired the case with the two defendants and the arresting officer to learn the facts in the trial this morning.

Mrs. Mercer pleaded guilty to the license charge, asserting she never had a driver's permit.

"He was drinking and I took the keys away from him," she said.

Her husband pleaded guilty to the intoxication charge, but denied he permitted his wife to drive the car. It was all her idea, he told the judge.

Judge Chertoff told Mrs. Mercer she acted correctly in taking the keys from her husband, but said she was wrong when she attempted to drive the car herself. He sentenced her to 10 days in the County Jail, but suspended the term on payment of costs.

Mercer was fined $10 and costs on the intoxication charge. The accusation that he permitted an unlicensed driver to operate his car was dismissed.

Mumaw told Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark that "although the woman was sober, her driving was nearly as dangerous as a drunk's because she is such a bad driver."

Meanwhile, James D. Wilson, 18, of 1728 Holliday St. was given a suspended $10 fine on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle and ordered to pay the costs on a charge of operating a car without headlights. Wilson was cited Sunday at 12:24 a. m. on E. 3rd St. at Union St. by Mumaw. The patrolman said he stopped the driver originally because he was driving without headlights and then checked the auto, finding the rear tires were smooth.

Four cited drivers forfeited appearance bonds. They are: Ray G. Smith, 20, of El Monte Calif., $32.50 on a citation issued by the State Highway Patrol Friday at 11:30 p. m. for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Danny G. Pauley, 24, of Huntington, W. Va., $17.50 on a charge filed by the patrol alleging he drove 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Friday at 11:55 p. m. on Route 7.

Ray Lewis Boone, 42, of Euclid, $17.50 on a patrol charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Saturday at 8:55 p. m. on Route 30.

Man Hurt In Fall Draws $25 Fine For Intoxication

A 62-year-old East Liverpool man injured in a fall Saturday on Smith St. was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge.

Donald Figley, of 235 W. 8th St. was treated at City Hospital after police found him lying on Smith St. Figley suffered two black eyes and five stitches were required to close a cut on his forehead on the right half of the nose, officers said.

Meanwhile, Phyllis Jenett, of 511 1st Ave. was fined $25 and costs on each of two charges—carved between the 9th and 12th centuries form a veritable so-decent language and profanity the eligible applicants to receive names and station of several "in the lawful execution of his duties."

Cited Sunday at 5:21 p. m. on Mulberry St. by Patrolman Zupi said

William A. Devon, she pleaded guilty on both counts this morning before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The officer testified he went to investigate a report of a fight on Mulberry St. which apparently involved the defendant's 17-year-old brother. He said she interfered and used foul language when he sought to talk to her brother.

Beaver County Sets Surplus Food Signup

Registration of new applicants for surplus food in Beaver County will be held Oct. 1-16 at the office on Rt. 51 at Fall-

Benedict Zupi, administrator, said this registration will entitle eligible applicants to receive food in November.

Applicants registering after Oct. 6 will not be eligible for surplus food until December, on Mulberry St. by Patrolman Zupi said.

Suffer From Starvation

Indians' Plight Revealed

The Tarahumara Indians of Mexico are the center of controversy. Louisiana citizens have sent relief supplies to them, based on reports the Indians are starving. The Mexican government, refusing entry to 10 carloads of the supplies, says the reports are exaggerated. El Paso, Tex., Times reporter Bruce Bissonette visited some of the Indians. Here is his story.

By BRUCE BISSONETTE
El Paso Times Writer

CREEL, Chihuahua, Mexico (AP) — Indians are suffering from starvation in Chihuahua. A child or two dies each day.

With a show me attitude about the Mexican government denial of starvation among the Tarahumara Indians of Chihuahua, we flew Sunday into the vast stretches of the Barranca del

Cobre canyons of the Sierra Madre Mountains. We went to the villages of Sisoguichi and Creel.

We visited with the Jesuit priests who devote their lives to the betterment of these Indians.

Among them is Father Luis G. Verplancken—at whose request Louisiana citizens generously donated 10 railroad carloads of food, tools, medical supplies and agricultural equipment for the Indians.

But the Mexican government has refused to grant permission for the shipment to enter Mexico from El Paso, Tex., where the cars have been sitting on a siding since Saturday.

Father Verplancken, kind and soft-spoken, was emphatic in his denial of reports that from 100,000 to 200 Indians a day are dying of starvation.

He was just as emphatic, however, in declaring that a "terrible situation exists" among 50,000 Indians who live in the rugged wilderness.

He said the current situation is "no different than it has been in other years." Whenever a drought occurs the Indians are hard pressed for food the following year and are also short of food themselves. Father Verplancken said.

"Last year," he said, "we had a drought and the crops were almost nonexistent. This year we had an abundance of rain, in fact, too much and the crops which were already short planted because of a lack of seed, rotted in the fields."

Most of the Indians live in soot-blackened caves. The caves are about 25 feet in diameter and about the same height, but without a roof.

The priest started his campaign for aid to the Tarahumara last August when he visited several Louisiana citizens.

Final Rites Paid To Archbishop

CLEVELAND (AP)—All night tonight and until the funeral mass at noon Tuesday, St. John Cathedral will be open for persons to pay their last respects to Archbishop Edward F. Hoban, who died Thursday at 88.

Bishop Clarence G. Isenmann who succeeded Archbishop Hoban as the seventh bishop of the eight-county Cleveland diocese, led a half-hour service at the cathedral Sunday.

The funeral mass Tuesday will be celebrated by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States, and the six bishops of Ohio. Archbishop John J. Krol of Philadelphia who served under Archbishop Hoban will preach the sermon. Visiting bishops and archbishops will include Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York.

Tour Started By Humphrey

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey spoke about U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today as he began a tour of California.

Comparing President Johnson with Kennedy, the vice president said: "President Johnson's view is a little more mature, a little more responsible, a little more in the public interest."

Humphrey talked about Kennedy and his own political future on a television news interview taped for release in Southern California tonight.

He began a two-day tour of the state in which he planned to visit federal installations and help Democratic candidates, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown in his race against Republican Ronald Reagan.

Humphrey took an optimistic look at his own chances for sharing the 1968 presidential ticket with Johnson.

Asked if the President had promised him a place on the ticket, Humphrey said: "In the realities of politics, the President is required to have an option. I don't know who he will want as his running mate. I'll give him the full measure of devotion and if I do that, you'll find the President won't be dissatisfied with me and we'll be walking side by side for many months and years."

Humphrey also said the war in Viet Nam will continue "for some time." He said financing the conflict is "not beyond the means of the economy by a long shot."

The war, he said, takes a smaller slice of the gross national product than the Korean conflict and "I do not think you can say it is beyond the means of the economy to bear it if we use restraint."

Group March Leads To Hurling Of Rocks

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A segregation group's march to a downtown Negro district touched off rock-throwing and raised some question whether a similar march scheduled tonight would be permitted.

Some windows were broken and a dozen automobiles were stoned Sunday night as crowds of Negroes gathered at the approach of Warren Folks, a Jacksonville barber and militant segregationist, and 11 followers.

Folks and his group, which included two women, carried placards that criticized integration of a city swimming pool and assignment of Negro policemen to downtown beats.

Profit Shows Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus & Southern Electric Co. reports common share earnings of $12.997,000 for the year ended Aug. 31, up 2.5 per cent over the previous year's profit.

Aspirin is the most widely used of all medicines in the world.

Lynda Bird, George Stir Speculation Anew

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird and actor George Hamilton had a water-skiing, picnicking ranch date in Texas over the weekend and speculation heightened about their romance.

They were gay, smiling companions at the Johnson ranch but gave no hint of anything more serious than just another date.

Hamilton, 26, and Lynda, 22, flew to Texas from Hollywood to join a Johnson family reunion at the ranch with newlyweds Luci and Patrick J. Nugent and Nugent's brother, Marine Lt. Gerard P. Nugent Jr., just back from Viet Nam duty and vacationing with his wife, Phyllis.

The presence of Hamilton in this close family group was what gave a bit more importance to this weekend date. He was with the Johnsons on their flight back to the capital early today.

Lynda has been off on a visit to Hawaii with friends. She returned by way of California, where Hamilton squored her around and gave a Hollywood dinner party in her honor.

In recent weeks, both Lynda and Hamilton have been reported dating other friends.

Lynda was beaming when she turned up on Hamilton's arm to attend Sunday church services with her parents at Blanco, Tex., 14 miles from the LBJ ranch.

The young couple sat side by side in a pew with the Johnsons. Hamilton, a Christian Scientist, held the hymn and prayer books, and Lynda, an Episcopalian, leaned over his arm to read responses. Occasionally they exchanged smiling glances.

The President, spending a weekend at his ranch, was being ecumenical with his family. He went to 8 a.m. Mass at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church with the young Nugents, who are Catholics. Then, at 11, he attended St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church with his wife, Lynda and Hamilton.

The President is a member of the Christian Church. When asked if he would go to his own church, too, the President smilingly replied:

"All of them are mine."

All's Snip Shape

With The Presidential Barber

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is like any other talk to him too much, unless he is an American male in his barber's chair. He has his own chair. Sometimes chatty, sometimes thoughtful, Martini said. He has a shop in Washington, but goes to the White House weekly to cut the President's hair. He operates in a little shop beneath the President's west wing office and also very human and kind. He has half an hour for the executives to keep his appointments with a razor.

Martini, 52, is the son of Italian immigrants. Barbers have the minimum union charge for been in his family for several going to a customer is $5. He says he thinks some barbers would panic if they had the Dwight D. Eisenhower barbers in their chair, but rowed him from the Pentagon adds.

"I don't get nervous when it's someone important. The average barber is liable to snip him," the barber said in an interview. "With the President, the most important man in the world is sitting in your chair. You'd better be careful. A slip of that razor and you turn in your pass."

Firemen List 300 Wellsville Kiwanians Buildings Sunday To Hold Ladies' Night

Some 300 homes, garages and business places were placed on the property lists of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department in a survey held Sunday.

Assistant Fire Chief Homer Cronin said the survey is not complete and further listings will be made Tuesday night.

Seventeen young people aided in the survey and Carole Vest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cronin, won a transistor radio which was offered as a prize for the surveyor obtaining the most listings.

She obtained 68 and Michael Cronin, her stepbrother, obtained 60.

Anyone not visited by the surveyors Sunday is urged to notify Cronin.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Former Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos is reported out of danger after an illness caused by a reaction to medication.

His wife Sunday was quoted as saying Mexico City's cold weather gave him arm pains and medicine he took for it caused a reaction.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — William S. Davis, 19, was too tall for the Army, but the Army took him anyway.

Davis stands 6 feet 6 1/2 inches — a half-inch above the maximum height requirement.

Davis wrote President Johnson of his predicament.

Then he called the White House and told his story to a presidential aide.

Last week, the youth was sworn in at the Charlotte, N.C., recruiting office.

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — The bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis' home is stuffed with wadded paper from floor to ceiling.

Today the couple was to return home from their honeymoon. The bridegroom's three children and the bride's only child, by previous marriages, allowed 'friends' to pull off the practical joke.

Arsonist Hunted In House Firing

CLEVELAND (AP) — In suburban Westlake, which has no Negroes among its 15,000 residents, authorities were looking today for an arsonist who set fire to a house purchased for a Negro church executive.

The pre-dawn fire Saturday caused an estimated $15,000 damage to a ranch-type house the Ohio Society of Christian Churches had purchased for $23,250 from a white owner, who moved out Friday.

The Rev. John R. Congdon of Cincinnati, the society's associate secretary and the first Negro to hold that office, had planned to move into the home next Wednesday.

Westlake Mayor Alexander R. Roman said a back door of the house had been forced open and that a volatile liquid was spread through the breezeway and over the living room carpet.

The Florida Beverage Department estimates that 3 million gallons of moonshine are sold in that state each year — a tax loss of $9 million for the state and $45 million for the Federal Government.

Miss Bonnie Gay Lafferty Weds Calvin Householder

The familiar traditions were observed by Miss Bonnie Gay Lafferty when she became the bride of Calvin Wayne Householder the afternoon of Sept. 11 at 2:30 o'clock in Riley's Methodist Church at Salineville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lafferty of Salineville Route 3. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Householder of Hammondsville Route 1.

The Rev. Allen Rose officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of yellow mums and ferns. Charles Sprague and 'Always 'I Love You Truly' and 'The Wedding Prayer.' Miss Charlotte Flanagan was pianist.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of nylon over taffeta designed in A-line styling with long pointed sleeves. The side and back drapes of the dress were caught with roses.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece formed of roses and a bow. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white carnations, yellow roses and English ivy.

Miss Mary Grace Lafferty, maid of honor, wore a yellow nylon dress with lace jacket. Miss Jananta Householder and Linda Householder, bridesmaids, appeared in dresses of floral taffeta overlaid with blue nylon.

Howard Householder was best man and James Householder and Donald Eish ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a suit in autumn brown with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother a beige suit with brown accessories. They had yellow rosebud corsages.

A RECEPTION for 175 followed in the social rooms, where decorations predominated in a yellow, white and blue theme. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake.

Nurses Will Hold Weirton Meeting

Members of the District 11 Nurses Association will hold a dinner meeting Wednesday at Weirton General Hospital.

The program will feature a symposium on "Who Has the Responsibility for Reorienting Nursing?"

Dr. Julia Duffield, an associate professor and chairman of the Department of Nursing at West Virginia University Medical Center, Dr. Ray Greco of Martinsburg, will serve as chairman.

Also participating will be Miss Audrey Wadsworth, director of nursing service at the West Virginia University Medical Center.

Doused 'Drifter' Dies From Burns

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard Benton Jr., an ordained minister whose life had drifted onto the Bowery, died Sunday of burns suffered last week when teenagers doused him with kerosene and set him alight.

The derelict, 51, one of three men similarly attacked in the space of a week, was taken to a hospital last Monday from an off-Bowery doorway where he had been sleeping on a pad of cardboard cartons when attacked.

He was burned over 75 percent of his body. Five youngsters, ranging in age from 12 to 15, were arrested the next day in connection with the incident and charged as juvenile delinquents.

From his home in Kentucky, Benton's father, Leonard Sr., said his son had left for the city 13 years ago after he "got in with the wrong crowd and got to drinking."

The elder Benton said his son was ordained as a minister in the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) and preached in "some small churches" in Kentucky.

Both of the other burn victims are reported recuperating.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I should be doing housework right now, but I decided to take a few minutes out to share this hint.

I rarely replace broken zippers—I repair them!

My procedure is as follows: When the zipper slide has broke away from the teeth, I pry open the slide with a screwdriver, run it down to the base of the zipper and slip it back over the teeth.

Then I squeeze it back together with a pair of pliers.

This works even when one of two teeth have broken off, and it has saved me much money and time.

A REGULAR READER

Yes, some zippers can be repaired this way.

You have to squeeze the zipper back to exactly the original spacing or it won't work properly.

Also, rubbing some dry soap or candle on the zipper runners will make it slide easier.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To renew suede shoes and handbags, buy a sheet of fine-grain emery cloth and cut it into two-inch squares.

Gently rub the emery cloth my arm and shoulder over the slick, worn spots on the shoes or bag, then the emery surface lightly.

Voila! Like new!

BELVA

DEAR HELOISE: After squeezing oranges, remove the membrane from inside the rinds, and run the peel through the food grinder several times.

Divide it into small portions, wrap in plastic wrap and store in freezer.

When a recipe calls for grated orange rind, you will have a supply on hand.

If you happen to save empty pill bottles, they make excellent containers for small quantities of the grated orange rind.

MAY CRAIGHEAD

DEAR HELOISE: I make very attractive coasters out of plastic lids from coffee cans by gluing small plastic dollies in the lids.

The coasters prevent marks on my furniture and are so easy to make.

MADGE WILLIAMS

DEAR HELOISE: I am no longer young, but this hint works well for me.

So I would like to help someone else and tell how I fasten my brassiere without straining.

Just remove the metal cap and shake out the desired amount.

Because of the small opening in the plastic cap of the bottle, there is less chance of getting too much bluing in the water.

MRS. F. SOBOSKI

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

City Crash Series

Woman Injured In Runaway Car

A 45-year-old LaCrosse woman was injured Sunday afternoon when her auto struck a gas pump at a Pleasant Heights service station, then crossed Lisbon St., went through the hedge at the Pleasant Heights Fire Station and finally came to a halt against a tree, police reported.

Virginia H. Watkins of Homestead Ave. was taken to City Hospital after the spectacular crash about 2 p. m. yesterday, officers said. She was in "fair" condition today with a possible skull injury.

Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., who investigated, said the driver was unable to explain what happened. He said she apparently "blacked out" when starting to drive out of the service station, which is owned by Richard Chadwick.

There was damage to the right front of the Moore auto and the entire rear of the Stauffer auto, police said.

Meanwhile, William C. Pipes, 25, of 438 Carolina Ave., Chester, told police the right rear panel of his 1962 sedan was damaged Saturday at 10 p. m. by a hit-skip car while parked on a lot at the home of American Legion Post 374 on Pennsylvania Ave. Pipes gave police the license number of the other auto.

A collision on W. 8th St. Sunday at 5:31 p. m. damaged a 1966 model truck tractor operated by Clarence A. Dean, 41, of Newlan, N.C., and a 1963 two-door sedan operated by Mae Campbell, 67, of 1030 Bradshaw Ave., officers said.

There was damage to the left front door and fender of the auto and the right fender and bumper of the rig, which is owned by the Underwood Welding Co., Inc., of Crossmore, N. C., police said.

Ministers Replaced In Korean Changes

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korean President Chung Hee Park replaced his justice and finance ministers today and rejected the resignations of Premier Chung Ik-kwon and the rest of his Cabinet.

Chung and his 16 ministers resigned last Thursday after an opposition lawmaker threw human excrement on the premier and four Cabinet members during an assembly discussion of a smuggling scandal involving a fertilizer factory.

Park said he held the finance and justice ministers responsible for the scandal over $111,000 worth of raw saccharine smuggled from Japan in the guise of machinery for a fertilizer company.

Area Residents Record 2 Songs

Two area residents have recorded their own compositions in the modern world of music.

They are Audrie Smith of Hillendale in Hanover Township and George (Mack) McConaughy of Raccoon Township.

The record, on a Jerre Label and on sale locally, features Paul Dennis of Unionville, Pa., as lead guitarist; his son, Paul Jr. on the drums; Alvin (Zeke) Torrence of Hookstown on bass guitar; and Bill Burris of Shipingport on the rhythm guitar.

Audrie's song is called "Old Love's Walking Out" and George's "I'm Truly Sorry, Dear."

Audrie, the wife of Tom Smith, is a lifetime resident of Hanover Township. The Smiths have five children. George is married to the former Jean Baker of Hillendale. They have four children.

Both Audrie and George appear on the Beaver Valley Country Show which is held at the Shindig Building on Route 168, Hookstown, every Sunday night from 6:45 to 10.

Airlines Reports 'Record Offer' To Transport Union

NEW YORK (AP)—After the Transport Workers Union disclosed that its members would take new "strike votes" concerning American Airlines, the line announced Sunday it had offered TWU employees a record-breaking contract.

The AFL-CIO union had no comment on the latest airline offer. American said the offer tops the terms won by the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists last month after a 41-day strike against five of American's competitors.

American's offer was made to 12,000 nonoperating employees—ground crews, mechanics, clerks, communications workers and supply personnel.

It came after the TWU said it would take new "strike votes" across the nation in the wake of what the union said it considered a break-off of negotiations Saturday night.

The IAM won raises of 56 cents an hour over a three-year period on a base pay scale of $3.52 hourly. The agreement went above President Johnson's anti-inflationary guidelines which recommended that no wage hike go beyond 3.2 per cent.

Home Lighting Event Planned By Jaycees

The Jaycees today announced plans for conducting a Christmas house lighting contest, the first to be held in East Liverpool in several years.

Keith Clutter, chairman, said the announcement is being made early to permit those interested in entering to purchase the necessary equipment.

The judging will be done a week before Christmas. Further plans and regulations will be announced later.

the dignity of man

The dignity of man is a priceless possession.

To secure and preserve this right for our fellow men has made the people of this country champions of freedom and leaders among democratic nations of the world.

The dignity of man is immortal.

The final rites present memorial tributes in the hallowed role of the funeral service to speak for the dignity of man. A person blessed with life, full of warmth and character beloved by people who have known him, merits this honor. He is not a statistic, nor a blurred image of the "average man." He is an image of God, and a brother to us all.

THE INDIVIDUAL IS SUPREME. Each individual owns this spirit within himself. This country has prospered from the union of individual citizens, not as faceless puppets. Man is important. He is not a "movement" nor a "machine."

HONOR THE LIFE OF MAN, not the achievements of the State, nor material successes. The profoundest traditions down through the centuries have lent tenderness, meaning and pride to the funeral service, the most solemn of occasions.

FUNERAL SERVICE EXPRESSES LOVE. It records a love so enduring it will never die. It is the recognition of the immortality of the human spirit, the rightful reverence earned by the good life... final testimony to the dignity of man.

THE PRICE OF PRESCRIPTIONS

One reason why people may be surprised at the price of their prescription is because it isn't a regular expense item like other (and often more expensive) items such as dinner, rent, auto repairs, or clothes for the kids. Yet the savings afforded in prevention of hospitalization or loss of job time more than make up for the price of the prescription. Gain full benefit from your doctor's expert care by bringing your prescriptions to our registered pharmacists.

Rarick Captures Louisiana Battle

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—John R. Rarick, who attacked veteran Rep. James H. Morrison as a candidate of the "black power voting bloc," says the South "has no racial problem that is not created."

The former state district judge said that tax-free foundations "are throwing out money to civil rights aggressors who constantly march up and down the street and confuse our people."

"The seeds they have planted will not be removed for 100 years," he said.

Rarick ousted Morrison Saturday in the Democratic runoff primary in Louisiana's 6th Congressional District. He will oppose Republican Crayton Hall, a research engineer, in November.

Seventy-four per cent of the district's registered Democrats turned out to vote, with Rarick polling 85,242 votes to 80,785 for Morrison, a 24-year veteran of Capitol Hill.

Supt. Blair To Speak At Jaycees' Meeting

Supt. Paul Blair will speak on the proposed school levy during a meeting of the Jaycees tonight at 6:30 at the Inn Town Motel. It will be the first regular membership meeting of fall. A plaque will be awarded to the outstanding Jaycee of the month. Atty. Charles Lang, president, said it will be a monthly citation. The name of the winners will be inscribed on the plaque. A new program, the selection is based on a point system.

Fourteen Jaycees and guests attended a golf stag Sunday afternoon at the Highland Golf Club.

Prizes for getting the closest balls to the pin were Roger Babb and Tom Gerace. Movies were screened of the 1966 Masters Tournament.

Rogers Resident Named Director Of Camp On Lake

William L. Lyder of Rogers has been named director of Camp Fitch, the Youngstown YMCA camp on Lake Erie.

Lyder also will be director of the Hi-Y clubs in the Mahoning and Columbiana Councils of Clubs.

Before joining the central "Y" staff as an associate youth director and adviser to Hi-Y clubs in January 1964, he had been associated with the Youth Department for five years as desk clerk, archery instructor and in charge of programs, including riflery and archery and served as the youth director in the summers of 1961 and '64.

He has been in charge of the Hi-Y section of the annual Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y training camp held at Fitch, inaugurated a Columbiana County Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Civic Day in 1965, has assisted with the pre-legislative work of the Ohio Youth-In-Government program and been director of the boys' camp at Fitch the last two seasons.

He was graduated in 1965 with a B.S. degree in education with a major in Physical Education from Youngstown University, where he was active in intramural basketball and was on the dean's list.

Lyder, a member of the Rogers Methodist Church, is a former Sunday School teacher, choir master and youth fellow-ship adviser; is a member of the National Association of Youth Work Secretaries, the American Camping Association and the Ohio-West Virginia Youth Work Secretaries.

Mrs. Lyder is the former Darla Watson of Clarkson. They have one son.

Waves driven by hurricane winds have enormous erosive power. In five or six hours, a severe storm can completely wash away miles of sand dunes 10 to 20 feet high and 100 feet wide at the base.

Rep. Hays Scheduled For Columbiana Talk

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congressman, will speak at a public meeting tonight at 8 at the VFW Hall in Columbiana, sponsored by the Women's Democratic Club.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, said the Flushing congressman will travel by plane late this afternoon from Washington and will return to the Capital tonight.

Gosney said Hays will attempt to meet as many of his constituents as possible and still fulfill his duties while Congress remains in session.

At NAACP Dinner

Job Opportunity
Laws Discussed

Samuel C. Jackson, head of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission at Washington, addressed over 200 attending the sixth annual Freedom Fund dinner held Saturday night at the Willows Motel at Industry by the Midland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Jackson discussed Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which established the commission to investigate complaints regarding job discrimination. He said the commission contemplates and encourages voluntary compliance by employers, unions and employment agencies through an affirmative action program.

THE COMMISSION, aggressive in job training and job upgrading, offers guidance in the development of these programs with the aid of technical assistant specialists. Jackson said the guidance provided in open recruiting creates a climate for integrated work forces. He said young Negroes gainfully employed with a financial potential are not "bomb-throwers."

He added that the bounty of America is enjoyed by all and that each one, black or white, is responsible to make sure of first class citizenship.

Other guests addressing the group were: Sidney Paige of Pittsburgh, assistant vice president of labor and personnel administration of the Crucible Steel Co. of America; Joseph D'Alesio, president of Local 1212 of the United Steelworkers of America; and Will T. Leavell, president of the Midland branch of the NAACP.

LEAVELL has served as president of the group since 1960 when the first Freedom Fund banquet was held. He was preceded by Mrs. Lillie Jones, first president, in 1958 and 1959.

Henry R. Smith, director of the Allegheny County Office of Economic Opportunity and state president of the NAACP, served as toastmaster.

A dramatic presentation was given by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fielder and Phil Hayes.

The Rev. Paul A. McClenon of the Midland First Baptist Church gave the invocation and benediction.

Mrs. Mary T. Wilson was banquet chairman. The co-chairmen were Mrs. Carl E. Lacey, Mrs. Charles James and Mrs. Aaron S. Golding.

The hostesses were Barbara Williams, Mimi Wilson, Maxine Anderson, Stephanie Golding and Joan Thomas.

The next meeting of the Midland branch will be Oct. 27 at 8 p. m. at the First Baptist Church.

Refreshments were served in the grill room under the supervision of Mrs. Samuel Blackburn. The head table featured party doll replicas of the officers.

Feminine Aid

LISBON — Portugal's National Feminine Movement (MNF) has launched a campaign for every Portuguese to contribute one hour of his salary for the support of the movement.

The MNF is a semi official group of 80,000 women volunteers organized to support Portugal's 100,000 troops stationed in its African territories of Angola, Mozambique and Guinea to fight against guerrillas.

The MNF says it expects to gather about 4 million Escudos ($140,000) in its fund-raising drive.

Body Shop?

WICHITA, Kan. — Workers at an automobile repair shop here answer the phone with the words, "body shop."

Several workers reported apparent wrong phone numbers when their response brought silence and a disconnected signal.

They learned the repair shop phone number was similar to that of a local mortuary. They quickly changed the wording of their telephone response.

Peanuts, Skunk

WICHITA, Kan. — Ingenuity and a dime helped Fred Fowler get a skunk out of his store.

When Fowler confronted the creature he quickly turned to a candy machine, bought a bag of peanuts and dribbled them in a line leading out the door.

The skunk ate his way out of the store and was last seen waddling down the street.

'Very Good' Rating Given
Bethel 61 At Inspection

A rating of "very good" was given during the semi-annual inspection of the International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel 61, Friday night, with 85 attending at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Dolly Dancy of Newark, grand guardian of Ohio, was inspecting officer. During the ceremonies, she presented an original narration, "I'm Proud of My Jobie Pin."

Honorary memberships were presented three past guardians, who have been associated with the local unit, Mrs. Eva Faulk of Marietta, grand chaplain, and Mrs. Jane Halstead of Youngtown, instrumental in organizing the group, and Mrs. Agnes Bryant of Canton, who assisted.

Miss Anne Lynne McDowell, honored guest, welcomed the other out - of - town guests from Warren, Salineville and Zanesville.

Miss Linda Hager, librarian, presented a narration that she and Miss McDowell composed. Using large placards, she defined the lettering of the motto for the year, "Jesus Our Beloved Savior."

New members initiated were Linda Bussard, Patricia Hoffman, Kathy Watson and Pam Stone. The East was decorated with a floral arrangement in purple and white.

The Bethel Choir and the officers sang "How Great Thou Art."

A contribution was allocated for the selected project of Mrs. Dancy, the Burns Hospital in Cincinnati. Sponsored by the Shriners, the unit treats children.

U.S. Plans Improvement Of Vietnamese Railroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it would like to improve the full length of the line openers. But the Pentagon wants to open up the throat on its use of the coast, then northward along the battered Vietnamese National Railway.

It has sent a team of railroad experts to South Viet Nam to study how the 1,200-mile narrow gauge line should be improved.

Only 400 miles is now considered safe for regular hauling. But even bolstering that much South Viet Nam a tariff for would ease mounting supply distribution pressures, say U.S. officials.

The Viet Cong guerrillas hit the railroad almost daily.

South Vietnamese 48 diesel electric locomotives, 225 freight and tank cars, and shop equipment worth $7.8 million.

Electrical Workers Turn Down GE Offer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of Local 707, International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), representing a majority of the production and maintenance workers in 26 General Electric Co. plants and units in Greater Cleveland, have voted down the latest contract proposal from the company.

The present contract for the 2,600-member local expires at midnight Sunday night.

Richard Evans, Local 707 president who had recommended rejection of the company's second proposal, said the vote was four-to-one against the offer.

Republicans To Offer Own Anti-Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are ready with their own anti-poverty plan today as the administration's much-criticized program finally reached the House floor.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says the GOP plan would cost the government less than half as much.

The Michigan Republican said in an interview the GOP's so-called equal opportunity bill would cost about $1.75 billion, of which $750 million would be paid by state and local governments and private industry.

The administration bill, which would carry the war on poverty

'Blighted Block' Residents Set To Do It Themselves

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — A group of do-it-yourselfers who live on this city's "most blighted block" have asked Washington to keep $750,000 in urban renewal funds. They promised to spruce up the place themselves.

Banding together as the Rye United Improvement Committee, the group appealed to Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to reject the city fathers' request for renewal funds.

The Rye Planning Commission calls the block containing 52 cottage-like houses the most blighted area in the city and contends it is a bad influence on the surrounding areas.

The houses date from the early part of the century, when they were built as summer beach cottages. Most of the cottages have since been converted to year-round use.

Residents of the block say they've started their own clean-up campaign, and point to eight uninhabited cottages which they tore down at their own expense.

The basic issue, the residents say, is that they would not be able to afford to live in their neighborhood any longer if the renewal plan went through.

Bullets Ducked, Man Gets $4,000 In Stolen Money

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — "I'm sort of glad he was a lousy shot," said William Wallenbecker Jr. after ducking five bullets and snatching $4,000 back from the man who robbed him.

"He kept telling me he was going to kill me while he was shooting from about 20 or 30 feet away," the 21-year-old Northwestern University graduate student said.

"I didn't hear the bullets, but I could smell the gunsmoke," the slender youth said he was leaving his employer, Monaco Drug and Liquors, Sunday night when it happened. He climbed into the delivery truck with the night's receipts and the man accosted him.

"When he told me to hand over the money, I was just kind of mad at this guy," Wallenbecker said. "We sort of wrestled in the car a bit. He was trying to push me over and drive away, but the key fell to the floor. He ran."

"I ran after him," Wallenbecker said the man fired — witnesses said five times — as they ran to a field.

"That's where we had the fight," said Wallenbecker. "He hit me with the gun and threw it into the weeds. I got on top of him and took the money."

Witnesses summoned police, who broke up the fight and arrested Anthony Lizio, 34. Lizio was charged with armed robbery.

"I really don't know why I did it. I just didn't want to see him get away."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann, Landers, I'm 18 and our clothes came from re-sale shops but Dad always drove a school. I want to become an expert in shorthand and typing so I can be a first-class secretary and travel with my boss.

When I tell my friends this is my ambition in life, their jaws drop and their eyebrows shoot up about six inches. The general impression seems to be that a secretary who travels with her boss is more than just a secretary — if you get what I mean.

Maybe I'm terribly naive, Ann, but is this the way it is? — FLEDGLING.

Dear Fledgling: Well, honey, that's the way it is sometimes — but of course there are exceptions.

Apparently you are a girl who enjoys secretarial work and also wants to travel. I suggest you weigh these two ambitions and make a choice — become either a secretary or an airline stewardess.

Problem Parents

Dear Ann, I'm a woman, 48, with a fine husband and three wonderful children who are all doing well in college.

Would you believe that my problem is my parents? My father is a drunk and my mother is the long-suffering type who enjoys her role.

As a child we often had boiled potatoes and beans for dinner,

Half Sister

Dear Ann, Can you settle a disagreement? I attended a luncheon recently and met some interesting people. Since I'm a newcomer to this city I'm on the alert for women I'd like to know better.

Mrs. V seemed very friendly and eager to introduce me around. She brought over a stunning woman who was exquisitely dressed and said with great pride, "This is my sister."

At that moment another woman stepped up and greeted Mrs. V. She was shabbily dressed, plain in appearance but her smile was warm and I liked her at once. Mrs. V said, "This is my half-sister. We had the same mother but not the same father."

I felt it was unnecessary for her to make the distinction. My mother did not agree with me. What do you think? — UNDECIDED.

Dear Undecided: The "distinction" was unspeakably rude. Nobody expects to be eluded in on blood lines during a casual introduction.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Weekend Traffic Takes 33 More Lives

Ohio's autumn motoring season got a sorry sendoff as at least 33 persons perished in weekend traffic accidents, highest nonholiday weekend toll of the year.

The way it had been going recently, it seemed inevitable the previous 1966 record of 31-reached twice-for a 54-hour Friday evening through Sunday night period would be eclipsed soon.

Already this month, the state had posted an appalling 38 deaths over the 78-hour Labor Day weekend, and just the Sept. 17 weekend had registered 28 killed in 54 hours.

This time, the count got off to an unusually fast start with seven deaths in the first six hours Friday night. It never slowed.

Greater Cleveland had five deaths in five accidents. Butler County had five in four accidents and Coroner Garrett J. Boone said it was the worst traffic weekend he had seen there in his 25 years in office.

Deaths reported since noon Saturday:

Mitchell M. Combs, 45, Dunkirk, Hardin County, when his auto and another car collided at the U.S. 25A Ohio 81 intersection east of Lima.

Mrs. Elta Burch, 75, Moraine City, hit by a car as she attempted to walk across a street in her home town.

Roger Morrison, 35, Branch Hill, Clermont County, occupant of an auto that struck a tree along a road east of Cincinnati.

Billy Cobb, 16, Akron, struck by a car a couple of doors from his home as he headed for a high school football game.

Michael D. Craycraft, 26, Cleveland, whose motorcycle struck a car in Garfield Heights.

Donald R. Gray, 21, Greenville, and his nephew, Tony Gray, 18, Evansville, Ind., whose motorcycle crashed broadside into an auto on U.S. 127 north of Greenville.

James Perryman, 40, Cleveland, occupant of an auto that struck a fire plug, tree and fence in Cleveland.

James Swiger, 34, McDonald, Trumbull County, when his auto wrecked along a road near his home town.

Joseph J. Burrus, 72, Toledo, in a two-car crash southeast of Toledo.

Sunday
Margaret Weinburg, 38, Pittsburgh, Pa., struck by a car on Ohio 3 south of Wooster where she and another Pittsburgh woman were walking on the roadway.

Allen Gaylon, 23, Chardon, struck by a car on Ohio 44 south of Chardon.

Curtis L. Zaerr, Archbold, whose car crashed on the Ohio Turnpike in Erie County, overturned and burned.

Vernon Hayes, 61, Bedford, Pa., formerly of Coolville, Athens County, Ohio, when a freight train rammed his car in Bel-pre.

Eugene Sexton, 35, Hamilton, when his auto hit a bridge abutment west of Hamilton.

George F. Schell, 40, and his wife, Virginia, of Hanoverton in Columbiana County, in a head-on auto collision on U.S. 62 west of Alliance.

James W. Reeder, 43, Cleveland, when his auto rammed a parked car in Cleveland.

Ginger Ann Reavis, 6, Hamilton, who darted into the path of a car at an intersection near her home.

Dorothy G. Jones, 25, Ft. Wayne Ind., and Margaret L. Jones, 55, Rt. 2, Paulding, in a two-car crash on Ohio 114 near Paulding.

Negotiations Due In Hospital Fight

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A representative of Local 47 Building and Maintenance Union, says the Youngstown Hospital Association has agreed to negotiate without having a bargaining election.

Eugene Green, counsel for the local, told union members at a meeting Sunday that union leaders "hope to reach an agreement with the hospitals to provide a contract for you soon."

Al Shipka, president of the Mahoning County AFL-CIO Council had threatened that a strike would be called if the hospital association did not agree to a bargaining-agent election by Thursday.

Meanwhile, the Youngstown Hospital General Duty Nurses Association reiterated a threat of mass resignations Thursday if the hospital does not begin negotiations on a contract. The hospital association has agreed to negotiate, but no date has been set.

Realtors' Action Due On Fair Housing Law

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tight money and the fair housing law were major topics of interest as the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards opened its annual convention here.

A resolution of the Ohio fair housing laws was being prepared for release today by a convention committee. There were rumors that efforts would be made toward repeal of the law.

Will Widen Program How To Brighten Your Kitchen

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University's President, Vernon R. Alden and Dr. Russell Milliken, director of the school's Center for International Programs, plan a trip to south Viet Nam in early November to discuss expansion of the Ohio U. programs at the universities of Saigon and Hue.

Proper Paint Adds Magic

A quality enamel coating — now available in the quick drying, water cleanup variety — is recommended by the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association of Washington, D. C., for painting kitchens. The reasons range from protection to color, to convenience.

As a protective coating, enamel ranks high in moisture seepage prevention. This is an important factor, because collected moisture from cooking, washing, etc., actually will penetrate unprotected walls of your home, causing extensive — and eventually expensive damage.

ENAMEL coatings also lend themselves to frequent, thorough cleaning — even with abrasive household detergents. These often necessary scrubbing will neither dull the original bright color nor ruin the glossy finish.

And these enamel paints are available in a virtually unlimited array of color — color that can be easily applied even by an amateur at a minimum of expense. A quality enamel paint also assures complete hiding power, non-fading colors, and a long-lasting finish.

As for the application of your new coat of color — it's as easy as a scrambled egg! But before you dip your brush into the paint, make sure that the about-to-be-painted surfaces are clean.

This pre-painting scrub-down is a must for a successful kitchen redecoration. A mixture of a household detergent and water will remove dirt and grease which may have collected on the walls. Fill any cracks and holes with a patching compound and sand them smooth when the compound is dry. To assure proper adhesion of the enamel, roughen any surface which is too glossy, using a fine grained sandpaper.

ing long, smooth strokes. Before refilling the brush, "cross-stroke" and then, with a practically dry brush, go over the area again with more smooth strokes. Following these steps will help you obtain a smooth finish.

As for color choice — remember that color can create a mood, or recreate the shape and size of a room. Color can give the illusion of warmth or coolness — it can be used to lend striking loveliness to one wall, where shiny kitchen utensils and other decorative accents can be hung. If the ceiling is too high, paint can make it appear lower. If it's too low — raise it with paint.

Simply remember that pale colors — such as blue or green — can make a room seem larger and cooler. Deep, warm tones — such as reds or golds — will give the opposite impressions.

But no matter what mood you desire to create and no matter what color you choose to affect it, your kitchen and your day will be brighter and more fun with the magic of paint.

If You're Applying Varnish, First It's Sand, Sand, Sand

By ANDY LANG AP Newsfeatures Writer

When the surface of wood is inadequately prepared for painting, this lack of attention may not show up until a later date, at which time peeling, chipping and flaking will occur.

But when the surface of wood is inadequately prepared for varnishing, the presence of defects is immediately evident. A clear finish like varnish accentuates rather than hides a lack of smoothness in the surface.

The secret of preparing the wood is sanding, sanding and more sanding. Take a short cut here and you can never correct the deficiency. Even if you purchase a high-quality wood that already has been well-sanded, it is necessary to give it some attention. The sanding, whether by hand or with a power tool, can then be done with a very fine grade of sandpaper.

Generally, however, you should start with a little coarser paper, then a fine grade and after that a very fine grade. When you run your fingers over the wood, it should feel as smooth as glass. Then, and only then, should you think about applying the varnish.

If staining and sealing precede the varnish, the principle is the same. The wood should be thoroughly sanded before the staining — and the sealer should be sanded, with a very fine grade of paper and a light touch, before the varnishing. Varnish never should be shaken or stirred. It has a tendency to form small bubbles when disturbed, and these will show up on the wood. The varnish should be applied in long, flowing strokes, first against the grain, then with it.

The last operation is called tipping. It consists of drawing the brush very lightly across the wood so that only the tips of the bristles come into contact with the surface. This is done in the direction of the grain and helps to smooth the varnish.

In recent years, many different types of varnish have reached the market, among them semi-glosses, rubbed effects, satin sheens and several varieties of plastics with urethane or epoxy bases.

Generally, plastics cost a little more than regular varnishes, with the epoxies especially so. But they have special properties — including longer life, more resistance to marring and scratching, better retention of gloss, etc. — that may make their use desirable.

If you decide to look into them at your paint hardware, lumber or building materials dealer, be sure it fits the job you must do. For example, one type of plastic varnish with superior qualities, when used indoors, is not recommended for outdoor use. Read the label carefully and discuss it with your dealer. Then buy.

Repair Time For Do-It-Yourselfers

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

Fall is a prime time for do-it-yourselfers. Most people feel better after a season of sun, fun and exercise. They can invest their energy in their homes. Everybody has a question — How much will it cost to build a new closet, is there time to add an extra room before winter winds howl, should they stain their floors a dark color? Even window sills get some attention.

"We live in an old house and our window sills are in bad condition. It has been suggested that we can cover them with a plastic material. Must this be laminated to the sills. Are there other materials that may be used?" is the question from one homemaker.

THE PLASTIC referred to may be the adhesive-backed papers that are treated to withstand moisture. These may be applied easily but wear would depend on how much moisture will seep in and so on.

You could always remove it, if it didn't work out. These come in attractive tortoise shell and marble designs. Marble is an attractive material for sills that is finding its way into more homes, but it is not inexpensive. Wood window sills last a long time, and often it is better to replace rotten sills with wood.

Pipes that sweat in a bathroom are a problem that disturb a new home owner, but experts advise that the condition clears up when the room is at normal temperature. It is caused by the condensation of water vapor in the air, the moisture forming on a container, such as water tank and pipes, holding a liquid cooler than the surrounding atmosphere.

A ventilating fan can help speed evaporation and a drip tray under the tank will help keep the floor dry. Some bathroom fixtures are built to offset this problem.

ANOTHER question involves built-ins. Many people on the move hesitate to spend money on fixed installations. If they own a house the built-ins should improve the property and may be added to the price, but if they rent a home as one woman points out, you can't have such things as storage walls. She doesn't like the look of temporary units, and they cost about as much, she says.

One reason why people don't like the temporary unit look is that it looks temporary, but it need not. If it is planned properly in a series of units that fit together, it can fit any place now or in the future. It will take the services of a carpenter, unless one is skilled at such plans. The important thing is to have a valance across the top of the ceiling that will drop below the top of the unit. That will give it the permanent look.

Some people have the base cabinet made in several sections so it will fit in a smaller area at a later time. If this is done, then units above must be arranged so that if only one segment of the base cabinet fits into a new dwelling, the series of temporary sections above may be combined to fit properly with it.

These are usually planned in different widths for an aesthetic pattern. The valance is shortened to accommodate the new width of the cabinet. HERE'S A budget problem. "After planning out an addition to our house, and getting estimates that will just about take our savings, we were told we need a new heating unit. Our old burner that was converted from a coal furnace will not take the new duct. My husband is all for shelving the addition, even though he hasn't even priced a new burner. Is there any low-cost heat that could be put in a room, 12 by 14. Are portable heaters effective. The new room is to be a nursery."

People who use portable heaters claim they are expensive to run. It doesn't cost anything to get estimates from local companies. Some people are intimidated to ask for an estimate, feeling they are obligated to buy. Most companies are only too happy to cooperate. A new efficient burner may cost less to operate than your present converted furnace, and pay for itself within a few years.

Consult the oil company, and hear what they say. As for low-cost heat in a cold climate — it's everyone's dream. It takes points out, you can't have such a lot of heat to warm up a house on a cold day, and fuel costs money.

Flat Wood Molding Advised As Replacement For Putty

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

For quite a few years large expanses of glass have been used in even the most modest of houses.

The trend toward more light in house interiors has been firmly established and walls which were formerly solid are pierced with picture windows and glass panels to carry out the modern feeling.

Many breezeways and covered passages between house and garage are now glassed. Previously they were at best just gloomy tunnels.

Along with the use of many panes of glass there comes a maintenance item which often has developed into a real problem.

As most glass is set in putty, the problem is that of replacing the putty, which so easily dries out, cracks and then falls away. When this happens, the home owner has the task of replacing it and then repainting it.

A comparatively short breeze way will have as many as 60 and hanging panes of glass to take care of. And an average two-story house will have hundreds of feet of putty around the window panes.

The practical solution to this problem, where there are so many small panes of glass, lies in the use of narrow, quarter-round or flat wood molding. This is cut in a miter-box so that the ends are nicely mitered and fit snugly.

When putty breaks out, the entire head should be removed, the frame scraped clean, coated with paint and the molding set in with small wire brads.

When this is done, there never again will be any trouble with that particular pane of glass, unless, of course, it is accidentally broken. The difference in appearance between the molding and the putty is practically nil. And if there should be any, it will be that the molding is neater and cleaner looking.

This suggestion applies just as well to glassed doors which are subject to much slamming way will have as many as 60 and hanging

Steel Output Looks Steady

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel demands will be strong for the rest of the year, Steel Magazine said today, because the nation's "economy still has much momentum, even though some of its forward thrust may have been curbed."

Steel mills are continuing operation at a record high rate for September to fill orders "and prospects look good for well filled order books the rest of the year," the metalworking weekly said.

The magazine said production of ingots and castings for September will approximate 11.4 million tons. Previous high for September was 10,668,978 tons in 1964.

The current production rate "is equivalent to an annual output of 139 million tons," Steel said, adding that the record high in steel production was last year's 131.5 million tons.

Steel said the first nine months of the year ending Friday will show steel production for the year is about 101.4 million tons, or 1.9 per cent below last year's record 103.4 million tons for the corresponding period.

Steel production has risen for five consecutive weeks," Steel said. Output for the week ended Sept. 17 totaled 2,670,000 net tons, and for the week ended Sept. 24, the magazine estimates output at 2,680,000 tons.

The pace of production is 18.6 per cent higher than the pace last year when output was declining during an inventory liquidation, Steel said.

A slightly high rate of order intake is reported by the magazine. One Chicago area company reported its rate of order intake for the first part of September was about 15 per cent higher than for a corresponding period in August.

"Down pressure on ferrous scrap prices continues," Steel said as a 16-cent drop per ton pushed steel's composite to $28.67 a gross ton.

Tips Are Offered On Roof Painting

AP Newstextures

Question: The area under the roof of our house was extremely hot during the past summer. Before the same thing happens next summer, I would like to paint the roof white, as I have been told that this will reduce the interior temperature. Is this so? And if it is, what kind of paint should I use?

Answer: We are always hesitant to recommend that a non-professional undertake a job like painting a roof, unless it is a flat one.

Assuming that you know what you are doing in regard to safety, here is the information about the paint: yes, a white paint will reflect most of the sun's rays. Some authorities say that the reduction in temperature is as much as 20 per cent, assuming that the roof is changed from a very dark color to white.

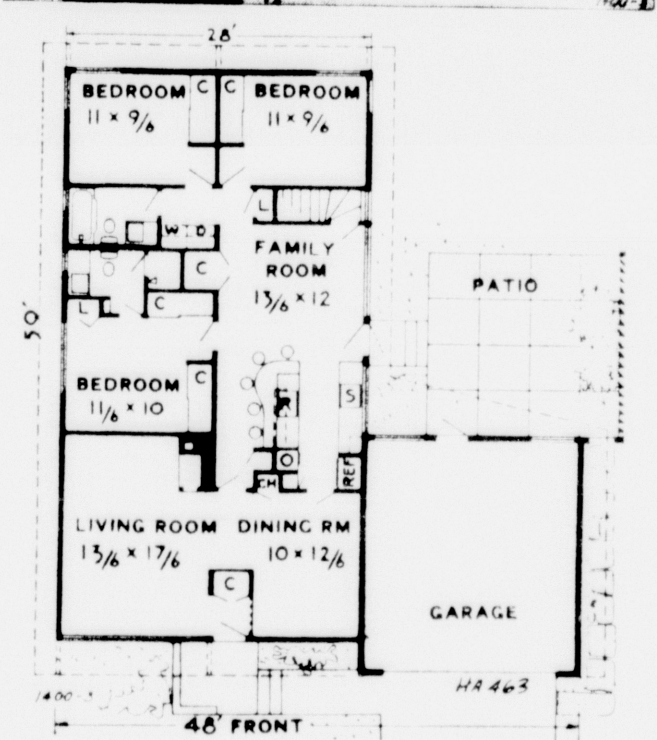

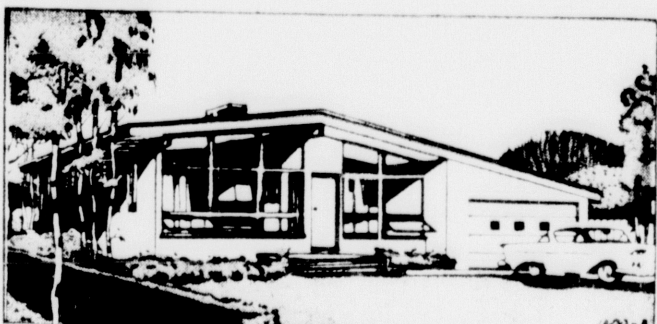

The kind of roof on your house has a bearing on the kind of paint to use. If the roof is made of black asphalt shingles or any other product containing asphalt, use an exterior latex paint, as ordinary solvent-thinned paints will dissolve the asphalt. If the roof is made of wood shingles, use a regular non-chalking exterior paint.

But if the shingles have any kind of stain on them, prime with an exterior aluminum paint. Galvanized metal roofs also must be primed, followed with non-chalking exterior paint. The same for tin roofs.

Asbestos-cement shingles should be painted with exterior latex paint, the same as for asphalt. Consider the possibility of using a roller attached to a long broom-like handle. Remember, too, that paint lasts longer on vertical surfaces than on horizontal ones. Therefore flat roofs or those with very little slant should get at least two coats.

Newcomers Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 460 new faculty and staff members will be welcomed to Ohio State University this week starting with the annual newcomers orientation program Tuesday night.

PLAN HA463 is a four-season, family-type residence. The living-dining area faces the front. Two bedrooms face the rear garden and the family room and the third bedroom faces the sides. The kitchen is the "parallel" type with the sink under a window and the range and oven facing the lunch counter. The kitchen opens into the family room. The laundry facilities are located in the bedroom hall. There is a full basement under the house. It is accessible either from the interior or via a garden entrance (not shown). The architect is Jan Reiner, 1000 52nd St. North St. Petersburg 10, Fla.

Mercury Switch Takes Some Noise Out Of Life

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In an age in which noise is a way of life and quiet is rare, anything we can do to lessen noise will probably be welcomed.

A loud and sudden noise at night, when everyone is asleep, especially the baby, is very disturbing.

Light switches, unnoticed in a busy atmosphere, sound like explosions when, turned on when all is quiet.

The ordinary toggle switch can be replaced easily and without great expense with a silent mercury switch. There are no springs and no metal parts clicking together. The circuit is closed when mercury, a liquid, flows across the contacts.

NOISY switches should be replaced in bedrooms, bathrooms and in hallway outside bedroom doors. Replacement throughout the house may not be necessary from the standpoint of noise, but could be justified on the basis of efficiency in the long run since mercury switches, with fewer moving parts, last longer.

First step in any electrical work is to make certain the power is off. A switch or fuse will control the circuit on which you are working.

If it is a fuse, remove it rather than simply loosening it. The best way to be positive the power is off is to turn on the light controlled by the switch you are replacing. If removing the fuse turns off that light you know you are safe.

Plan your job for daytime so that you will not be fumbling around in the dark. Keep a flashlight handy in case you have to look into the wall to examine the wiring.

With the power off you are ready to start work. Remove the screws that hold the switch plate in place.

Put these aside carefully. Metal ears at the top and bottom of the switch are secured to the metal switch box with screws. Remove these screws next. New screws are generally provided with the new switch.

PULL THE switch forward so that you can work on it. House wiring is stiff so it may not come out as easily as you expect. Loosen the terminal screws so that you can remove the wire leads that are under strain.

Before actual removal, note how the wires are connected.

Sticky Matter

Make Sure You Use Right Glue

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The thought of glue may make you hold your nose, but you need not look down at it at the thought of using one of the many adhesives available.

Gluing is an easy method to mend things. Success depends on proper preparation and the right choice of glue.

Modern glues, especially the new epoxies, make glue joints amazingly durable. Even if you are using some other fastener, such as nails or screws, remember that glue will make the joint stronger.

REGARDLESS of the glue you use, you will find that the rules for preparation and application are pretty universal.

All old glue (if it is old work) must be removed from the surfaces to be joined. Scrape and sand.

Surfaces must be clean. Remove dirt, dust, grease, oil or any foreign matter.

Wood surfaces should be sanded smooth.

Apply glue in thin coats. Spread it over the entire surface. If the glue oozes out of the joint, wipe it clean immediately to avoid marring.

Make certain that the parts of the joint are properly aligned; then clamp or fasten in the position in which you wish them to dry. If you are applying a patch, round the corners. Square corners pull loose more easily.

Failure will result from improper preparation. It also will result from the wrong choice of glue and not following the manufacturer's instructions.

MUCILAGE and paste are used for paper and light fabrics, lightweight, porous materials. Animal and fish glues are still around, though rapidly being replaced by synthetic glues.

These also are used for lightweight materials and for wood where there is no great stain and no moisture. Clamp tightly.

Casein glues are used for wood, are strong and do not need tight clamping. They tend to penetrate thin materials such as veneers.

The urea resin glues are moisture-resistant and strong and can be used on wood as well as most porous and semi-porous materials. Clamp pieces and allow time for drying.

For outdoor use look for something specifically marked waterproof (waterproof resorcinol glues). These need mixing and the glued object should dry at room temperature.

Ready-to-use, white polyvinyl glues that dry clean are convenient, easy to use, and can be used on a wide variety of materials. There is one disadvantage—they will not withstand high heat or soaking.

CELLULOSE cements are used for china and glass but can be used on wood or other porous materials as well. They have the same disadvantage as polyvinyl glues.

Rubber cements are waterproof, can be used on both porous and nonporous surfaces and should be used where the joint will be bent or flexed.

Epoxy resins are the miracle glues—strongest, resistant to water and heat and can be used on all sorts of materials including unlike materials. They require the most care in applying and are the most expensive. The glue is in two parts, a resin and an activator. Separately they stick to nothing.

ing. Together they set and dry due to internal heat.

Epoxies come in two tubes. Squeeze out equal strips from each and mix until the color is uniform. Apply a thin coat to each surface and join. Mix in small amounts. It thickens in 30 minutes and sets in about four hours.

Adults Can 'Learn' From Children

By PERCY HANSEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Any adult who has no close contact with children and those much younger than himself misses a great deal.

For many years, I was closely associated with an army officer who often declared, "I hate children — all children. It's lucky I never had any kids. They would have been most unfortunate."

On one occasion, the wife and little daughter of one of the sergeants visited regimental headquarters.

The sergeant's wife was an attractive woman, and the little girl, her father, an administrative officer with a large corporate position, had been transferred from child. Everyone in the room had a cordial greeting for the two visitors, except the childless southern city.

The young girl was deeply distressed by the change. She missed her high school friends and was having some difficulty of the clerks placed a report on in establishing new friendships.

The major's desk with the remark, "Sarge certainly has a beautiful daughter, hasn't he?"

Instead of ignoring the remark or nodding an agreement, the major snarled so that all in the room could hear, "How should I know? I never notice kids."

The major was more to be pitied than censured. He was a very embittered man, and some of us harbored the suspicion that his evident unhappiness may have been because he had been denied the pleasures of fatherhood.

Recently, I had a friendly visit with a 15-year-old high school girl. Her father, an administrative officer with a large corporate position, had been transferred from child. Everyone in the room had a cordial greeting for the two visitors, except the childless southern city.

The young girl was deeply distressed by the change. She missed her high school friends and was having some difficulty of the clerks placed a report on in establishing new friendships.

In answer to my question as to how she liked her new home, she said, "Oh, I miss all my friends, but daddy likes his new job very much and I am glad for him. He says people should make an adventure of everything they have to do."

"He says when things get real tough, that is when to make a bigger adventure. I am trying to make moving down south a real adventure, but I have to admit it is hard to do sometimes, but I know if I keep trying, I am going to make it."

OFTEN EVEN younger children than my teen-age friend can supply lessons of great value. I can think of two. The first was furnished by a nephew who was only five years old. He had been left with me while the other members of the family attended the funeral services for his 85-year-old great-grandfather.

He was very curious about the meaning of his mother's grief, of death and about the funeral, and I tried to explain it all as gently as I could.

"You know, Bob," I said, "we all have to die. Your mommie's grandfather was 85 years old and most people die even before they are that old. I am the oldest in the family now, and I probably will die next."

The little fellow was sitting on his tricycle and he put his elbows on the handlebars and gazed at me thoughtfully. Then he said:

"You know, Uncle Percy, I wish you didn't have to die. I wish nobody had to die." He paused again as if greatly depressed at the thought of death. Then his face brightened. He swung his tricycle into motion with a lighthearted gesture and said, "But that's the way the ball bounces!"

ANOTHER time, I received a lesson from a little neighbor girl of about six or seven years of age, who had just been punished for some misdemeanor. Her father was of the "old school" — a firm believer in corporal punishment. The child's eyes still were a bit red and swollen as she came into the yard.

"My daddy just spanked me," she announced in a matter-of-fact voice. "I was mean to my little sister."

She hesitated for a moment, struggling to smile, and when I gave a noncommittal "That's too bad," she continued, "Whenever my daddy spanks me, as soon as I can stop crying, I always kiss him because I love him and I know he's right."

These lessons should prove of value to middle-aged and elderly persons everywhere if they will but pause to consider their significance.

When faced with necessary changes or unexpected difficulties, "make an adventure of it." When confronted with obstacles over which you can exercise no control, instead of moping or becoming upset, dismiss them with "that's the way the ball bounces."

And when you suffer as a result of your own thoughtlessness or misdeeds and are undergoing the punishing effects of your errors, remember the philosophy of the little girl and when you "can stop crying" repeat to yourself her final words of "and I know he is right."

The original Louvre in Paris originally was a fortress, and later served as a palace of kings.

1 States Combed For Fugitive Who Wounded Officer

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — A four-state alert was out today for a man wanted for wounding a Campbell County policeman involved in two gun battles with the man in two days.

The gunman was seen entering a blue car, eastbound on Kentucky 8, after Sgt. Howard Baxter, 36, was shot in the shoulder and side Sunday, police said. Baxter was reported in fair condition.

Police said it was a possibility the gunman had commandeered the car, or that he may have hitched a ride. Witnesses said they had seen the man flag down the car, but police said they were inclined to disbelieve reports he had taken it by force.

Police in Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana were alerted. The man was described as white and having a mustache. He is about 30 years old and was wearing dungarees and white tennis shoes.

Sgt. Baxter was shot while making a routine patrol of a weekend camping area near Calhoun, Ky. He said he had Council opened the flap of a tent and two shots rang out.

Baxter returned the fire as the man bolted from the tent and fled across railroad tracks onto the highway. Baxter said he believed he hit the man in the leg.

Baxter said he first encountered the man Saturday morning while patrolling the same area. The man was sitting on the railroad tracks then and as Baxter approached the man fired two shots.

Baxter was not hit then, but one bullet pierced his pants leg. Baxter also fired back Saturday.

Pope Paul Observes His Birthday Quietly

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI marked his 69th birthday today with a normal 18-hour work schedule and no arrangements for any special observance.

On the eve of his birthday the Pope cautioned some 1,200 leading Roman Catholic theologians to move carefully in interpreting the vast changes outlined by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Potters' 56-6 Rout Of Oak Glen Could Prove Costly

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Only one minute of the game had elapsed before the rout was on Saturday night at Patterson Field as East Liverpool rolled to one of its most lopsided victories in recent years with a 56-6 walloping of Oak Glen.

A paid crowd of 5,565 scarcely had settled in its seats before the Potters hard-running halfback Darryl Herring (Twice) Herring had raced 74 yards to touch off a parade of East Liverpool touchdowns.

While the victory was a pleasant one for the Potters, it could be very costly, too. Coach Bob McNea announced that halfbacks Darryl Herring and Denny Smith may be lost for the remainder of the season.

AN EARLY diagnosis revealed that Herring suffered a torn knee cartilage and Smith a leg injury, McNea said.

Herring and Smith have been

Herring, Smith Injured, May Be Lost For Year

the Potters two most dependable runners in the early season. Herring led in the rushing department Saturday with 141 yards in eight carries. Sophomore Jim Musuraca was second in this department with 101 yards in 11 carries.

"It is sickening to think of Herring and Smith being lost for the remainder of the season, but we will have to wait and see how they respond to treatment," McNea added.

Both backs were limping badly after the game. McNea said Bill Jones will move into a fullback spot, while regular fullback Jim Musuraca will run from halfback.

THAT'S THE way the Potters hands of Coach Bob Starkey's ran in the second half after Herring and Smith had been injured in the second quarter. Sam Scott was used at the other halfback spot and both Jones and Scott were impressive with their running in the second half.

Looking over the contest, McNea said "I was surprised that we ran as well as I was pleased with our downfield blocking." We weren't able to run much against Oak Glen last year but they have an inexperienced and young team and appear to be about a year away from the victory, a one-sided one.

The victory, a one-sided one in every department, avenged defeat, the 56 points represent last year's 12-0 loss at the new high for the Potters under Coach Bob McNea, now in his third season, as head coach.

The Potters depended solely on a strong ground attack in rolling to their second victory in three starts.

THE BLUE and White marched through Oak Glen defenders for a grand total of 436 yards on the ground, while adding another 30 yards in the air. In control of the pigskin most of the time, East Liverpool chalked up 13 first downs, with 16 rushing and two through the air.

Oak Glen was almost helpless on the ground and turned in only one sustained march, that coming in the third period when the Bears moved 74 yards for their only touchdown, climaxing when Dick Lugano plunged over from the one.

The remainder of the game belonged to the Potters. Herring opened the door on the scoring with his 74-yard burst as he shook off several tackles at the line of scrimmage and received a key block by Bill Carter at the Oak Glen 35 to give him smooth sailing to the end zone.

IT WAS the first of two touchdowns by Herring, who went nine yards in the second period for the Potters third tally.

East Liverpool opened with a pair of touchdowns in the first period. Herring's first score came with the game only one minute old. The Potters' second tally was scored with 1:57 remaining in the first period.

Mike McVay, a 170-pound junior, who drew the opening assignment at quarterback, scored three yards out, then hit Jim Musuraca with a conversion pass good for a 16-0 lead.

In the second period, Herring set up his second touchdown with a 32 yard gallop which carried to the Oak Glen 30 and three plays later went nine yards for the score.

THE CLOCK showed 3:33 left in the first half when Herring scored, but the Potters had 130 yards in penalties. Seven time for one more before the 15-yarders were marked off halftime show. Emory Brewer, replacing McVay at quarterback, scored from the two when four starts for Oak Glen, which the Potters took advantage of by snapping from center and took over on the Oak Glen 19. Brewer set up the touchdown by carrying to Steubenville against Central, rying to the two-yard line in two tries.

The Potters were held scoreless in the third period, but with both teams using a host of substitutes, East Liverpool tallied three times in the final period.

Earl Diddle, seeing his first action at quarterback in the fourth period, flipped a two-

WITH 4:41 remaining, Diddle went nine yards for the second six-point of the period, then passed to Musuraca for the extra two points.

Musuraca, the sophomore fullback, tallied the final touchdown when he raced 14 yards with 20 seconds left in the contest.

The Potters made all two-point conversion tries Saturday night, with Sonny Clark adding the seventh one.

The Potters' defensive forces again led by end Chuck Harris, kept Oak Glen in its own territory most of the evening.

Only the booming punts of end Dan Crago kept the Potters busy. Most of Oak Glen's yardage came on the touchdown drive, with their longest gains of 19 and 18 yards turned in by Lugano and Bob Miller respectively.

OAK GLEN'S initial first down rushing didn't come until 7:11 remained in the third period.

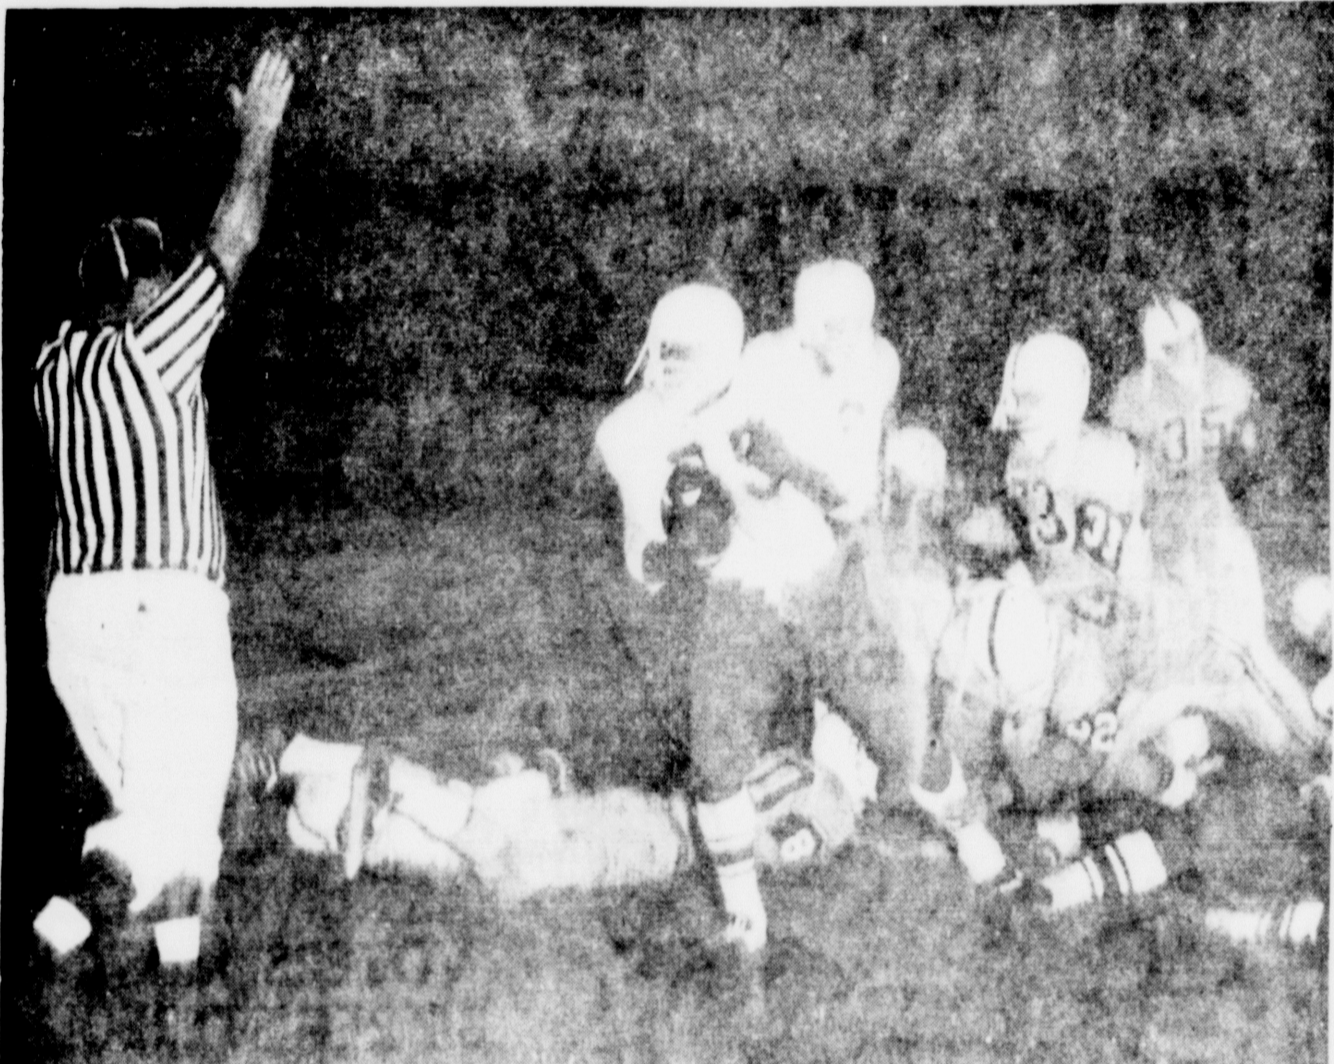

While the Potters had the best of the statistics, they also drew 130 yards in penalties. Seven time for one more before the 15-yarders were marked off halftime show. Quakers Hand Western 42-13 Loss

A powerful Quaker Valley three starts for Western play team scored in every period and rolled up 411 yards on the ground to rout Western Beaver 42-13 Saturday night at Midland.

The defeat was the second in its first year of football. Quaker Valley built up a 35-0 lead before Western scored both touchdowns in the final period.

Ernie Yokley went 39 and 63 yards for two touchdowns while Denny Conrad raced 30 and plunged two yards for a pair to pace the visitors.

Art Washington opened the scoring for Quaker Valley with a 13-yard jaunt while Gre Smith went one yard for another score. Tom Seren kicked all six extra point conversions.

Jim Jarrett broke the ice for Western when he raced 70 yards early in the fourth quarter to put the Golden Beavers on the scoreboard. The Beavers scored later in the period when Bill Hapach took a 13-yard scoring pass from John Petchel.

South Side, Mars In 7-7 Deadlock

Beaten in their first two which has been extremely tough starts, the South Side Rams in the second half all season battled to a 7-7 tie with Mars settled down to blank the visit-Saturday afternoon at the South Side gridiron.

South Side scored first in the opening period when Tom Doak threw a touchdown strike to Ron Allison and Doak kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Mars bounced back and tied the score in the second quarter on a six yard run by Bill Flukas who also added the conversion.

Crestview Drops Third On Missed Conversion

LOWELLVILLE — A margin of a conversion cost Crestview its third loss so far this season when Lowellville won an 8-6 decision here Saturday.

The victory was the second in three starts for the Rockets who opened the scoring with a touchdown in the first period. John Sheely plunged over from the one and was the game's leading ground gainer with 130 yards rushing.

Jerry Ambrosia's conversion run following the touchdown gave Lowellville the edge.

Crestview came back to score in the third period but missed on an attempted run for the conversion. Orval Sword scored for Crestview on a four-yard run.

Cards Edge Browns For No. 3

Green Bay, Dallas Stay Unbeaten

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Prentice Gault couldn't believe it, but the Cleveland Browns found it real enough.

With St. Louis and Cleveland tied 28-28 in the final quarter Sunday, Cardinal back Gault burst through the Browns' line and ran 23 yards for the score that gave St. Louis its 34-28 margin and raised its Eastern Division-leading NFL record to 3-0.

"It was a draw play and the blocking was beautiful," Gault said later in a jubilant St. Louis locker room. "No one touched me. I couldn't believe it."

After the touchdown, Cardinal extra-point kicker Jim Bakken missed his first point after in 125 attempts and for a while it seemed as if it might cost St. Louis the ball game.

The Browns, who had blown a 28-14 lead, came roaring back to a first down on the St. Louis 11. Two of Cleveland quarterback Frank Ryan's passes were in complete and Ernie Green picked up a yard on a run. On the fourth-down play, Ryan threw at rookie Milt Morin in the end zone, but Cardinal defender Jerry Stovall reached in front of him and knocked it down.

Elsewhere in the league, Green Bay beat Los Angeles 24-13. Dallas took Minnesota 28-17. Baltimore bombed San Francisco 36-14. Detroit bounced Atlanta 28-10. Philadelphia smothered New York 35-17 and Washington got past Pittsburgh 33-27.

Green Bay, now the only unbeaten team in the Western Division, had its troubles with the Rams before an 80-yard pass play from Bart Starr to Elijah Pitts iced the game. The Packers lost five fumbles in blowing a 17-0 lead.

Dallas remained unbeaten in the Eastern Division with three 80-yard scoring marches in each of the last three quarters. Cowboys quarterback Don Meredith completed just eight passes but two were good for touchdowns to Bob Hayes and Buddy Dial.

Lou Michaels tied an NFL record with five field goals and Alvin Haymond was tough on defense in the Baltimore victory. Michaels' kicks ranged from 23 to 41 yards and Haymond set up scores with two kick returns and a pass interception.

Milt Plum completed 13 of his first 16 passes and threw two scoring strikes as Detroit dealt Atlanta its third straight loss.

Norm Sneed pitched three scoring passes and Philadelphia easily beat New York. Sneed was 10 for 18 and 179 yards and Pete Retzlaff caught five passes for 120 yards and a touchdown.

Charley Gogolak kicked four field goals and Washington scored 24 points in the second half as the Redskins came from behind to beat Pittsburgh. Sonny Jurgensen passed for two touchdowns.

Sophomores Prove As Good As Parseghian Figured

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The leprechaun on the sidelines danced up and down every time 19-year-old Jim Seymour cradled one of 18-year-old Terry Hanratty's passes in his arms and looped downfield. It didn't take long for Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian to pick up the play.

Hanratty hit Seymour with an 84-yard scoring pitch that broke a 7-7 tie in the second period and the teenage battery clicked for two more TDs later in the game as the eighth-ranked Irish whipped No. 7 Purdue 26-14 last Saturday.

The sophomore aerial act — cheered on by Notre Dame's leprechaun-clad cheerleaders — shared the collegiate football spotlight with UCLA's Gary Beban who engineered a 31-12 victory over Syracuse. Michigan State's backfield which ran over Penn State 42-8 and Alabama's defending national champions, who opened their season with a 34-0 rout of Louisiana Tech.

Parseghian knew his sophomores were good but he wasn't sure just how good. "I was afraid I might be over-rating them. I have been so high on those boys that I feared I might be over-confident."

Hanratty hit Seymour 13 times for 276 yards — both Notre Dame records for receptions and yardage and left Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf stunned.

"We weren't prepared for him," Mollenkopf admitted. Northwestern, where Parseghian coached before moving on to Notre Dame in 1964, gets the next look at Ara's prodigies Saturday.

Beban, UCLA's junior quarterback, strated Syracuse with long bombs — most of them aimed at speedy Buzz Busby, a 19-year-old sophomore.

The Bruins, ranked second in the Associated Press Top Ten, scored three times inside of five minutes in the second period. Beban completed seven of 10 passes for 178 yards while the Ucla defense held fleet Floyd Little to only 29 yards rushing.

UCLA takes on Missouri, 21-14, Saturday. The Razorbacks met TCU this week.

Top-ranked Michigan State got two TD passes from Jim Raye and its usual strong running game from Clint Jones and Bob Apisa against Penn State. The Spartans are at Illinois this Saturday.

Bear Bryant takes third-ranked Alabama into Mississippi Saturday after the Crimson Tide ripped Louisiana Tech, Nebraska, ranked fourth, rallied for 18 points in the final quarter and beat Utah State 28-7. The Huskers play Iowa Saturday.

Southern California No. 5 in the rankings, led only 6-3 at halftime but rallied for five touchdowns in the second half and a 38-3 victory over Wisconsin. Oregon State is this week's opponent for USC.

Martin Bercher ran back a punt 64 yards igniting Arkansas, No. 6, to its 27-8 victory over Tulsa. The Razorbacks meet TCU this week.

Ninth-ranked Michigan defeated California 17-7 and Baylor, No. 10, was knocked off by Colorado 13-7.

Braves Keep Bucs 1½ Back With 6-2 Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ken Holtzman can forget about Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers. People such as Chaucer and Elizabeth Barrett Browning are more important now.

But Koufax and the Dodgers won't soon forget Holtzman.

The rookie left-hander out-pitched Koufax Sunday, holding the Dodgers hitless for eight innings and winding up with a two-hitter as the Chicago Cubs edged the National League leaders 2-1.

Despite the loss the Dodgers retained their 1½-game lead over the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to Atlanta 6-2. Third-place San Francisco remained four back by losing to Houston 5-4.

Holtzman's start was his last before returning to the University of Illinois where he is a senior majoring in English literature. He headed to school after pitching his best game of the season — a season which started out with him as a part-time player.

While attending classes in the spring he pitched for the Cubs on weekends. Still his 11 victories, against 14 defeats, are the most for a Chicago pitcher this year. His latest was too much for the Dodgers.

Until the ninth inning, the only Dodger baserunner was Dick Schofield, who walked in the third inning on a 3-2 pitch. Holtzman erased him on a double play so the 20-year-old southpaw had faced only the minimum 24 batters when Schofield led off the ninth with a single.

In other NL games, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 4-3 in 13 innings and New York downed Cincinnati 8-4 in the first game of a doubleheader. Rain washed out the second game.

Koufax, now 25-9, gave up just four hits and only one in the first inning when the Cubs scored both of their runs. Don Kessinger walked and scored on Glenn Beckert's triple. Beckert scored when second baseman Jim Lefebvre dropped Ernie Banks' two-out pop fly.

Hank Aaron hit two homers, giving him 42 for the season, and Mack Jones added his 21st as the Braves prevented the Pirates from moving up. The Pirates had the bases loaded and one out in the eighth inning, but Clay Carroll came on and stopped them with only one run.

Willie Mays and Willie McCovey gave Houston three unearned runs in the first two innings, but the Astros needed singles by Aaron Pointer, Bill Heath and Bob Aspromonte for the winning run in the sixth. That run broke a tie gained for the Giants by McCovey's two-run homer.

Philadelphia's Rich Allen hit his 40th homer in the fourth inning, singled home the tying run in the ninth and singled across the winning run in the 13th.

Junior Editors Quiz on JELLYFISH

QUESTION: Into what category do scientists put jellyfish?

ANSWER: Scientists divide the animal kingdom into large groups or phyla. Jellyfish are placed in a group low in the scale of development called Coelenterata. These animals lack backbones and even the jointed legs of arthropods such as lobsters, spiders and insects. But you will realize that jellyfish are not fish, for fish are in a much higher phylum, Chordata or animals with backbones. Many jellyfish start life as polyps, cup-like animals attached to some support. Later they swim free, with the cup turned over, when they are called medusae. This is because the tentacles, which stream down, resemble the snakes which were supposed to grow on the head of Medusa of Greek mythology. She was said to be so hideous you would turn to stone if you looked at her. Like the mythical snakes, the tentacles of the real medusa can sting, paralyzing small fish which are used for food. The animal's jelly keeps it afloat. We illustrate another type, with tentacles resembling combs, the comb jelly.

FOR YOU TO DO: When you go to an ocean beach, look for a stranded jellyfish. But don't get too close. It might give a painful sting.

Debbie Pillar of East Liverpool, Ohio wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
